Richardson Camp Counters With Statement Governor Will Win by 75,000

HOT CAMPAIGN CLOSING

Supporters of Shortridge And Clarke Optimistic As Election Day Nears

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The polls will open tomorrow to allow California to name the winners of what is conceded to have been a great political battle.

Typically, this was the day before, when candidates of great spontaneity and no little recklessness, those of their campaign managers and chance supporters even more so.

Predict Richardson Victory
Richardson managers countered with the statement that the present governor will carry the state by a majority of "exceed 75,000."

Both principal Republican gubernatorial candidates will carry their campaigns as outlined over this evening. Richardson will feast with his forces tonight at the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco. The banquet was seized by Richardson opponents as an opportunity to remind voters that the governor has not "risken" a mass meeting in San Francisco.

Young to Talk Over Radio
Young will wind up with a speech tonight, starting at 9 o'clock, over radio KFWL, San Francisco.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, whose campaign for Young and Judge Robert M. Clarke, against Richardson and Samuel M. Shortridge, has marked his first activity of the sort in which he was not up for re-election, issued a summarizing statement, calling last-minute attention to Richardson's purported "corporation record," and Shortridge's alleged inactivity in the Pennsylvania primary investigations, the "Teapot Dome incident" and the Denby and Daugherty affair.

A Young newspaper today said: "From a source inside the Richardson camp comes word that Richardson now relies on two things—the pressure of public utilities companies and the hope that Goodell will prove strong enough to give Young the best of the waters, Richardson headquarters said."

"Stephens was a 12 to 1 favorite over Richardson as far as the local betters were concerned in 1922." Goodell, notwithstanding the apparent general prophecy of defeat, wired that he is confident of success.

Knox Hurt by Glass Wife Hurls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—P. J. Alexander C. Knox, son of the late Pennsylvania senator and one-time secretary of state, was "weak from loss of blood from a wound in his wrist, but otherwise was resting comfortably in a hospital here today, following an argument at 2 a. m., with his wife, after a "party." Mrs. Knox, the former Miss Josephine Poole, of Charleston, W. V., hurled a water glass at her husband and cut his wrist, according to police reports.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 30.—Tabulation of returns in Texas' run-off primary today was expected to show further increases in Dan Moody's lead over Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson for the Democratic nomination for governor.

CRASH CAUSE MAY REMAIN MYSTERY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—The reason for the crash of Com. John Rodgers' airplane, which resulted in his death, last Friday, at the navy yard here, may never be accurately known, naval officials said today, as the board of investigation prepared to officially investigate the tragedy.

Mexicans Seize Two U. S. Boats

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 30.—Two American fishing schooners were seized by the Mexican government yesterday and towed into Ensenada to face charges of violating the international fishing laws, the San Diego Fishermen's association learned today. The two gas schooners are the North America, of 10 tons, Sam Corrao, captain; and the Union, of seven tons, A. Giacolina, captain. The seizures were made by the Mexican patrol steamer Tecate.

Farewell Said to Valentino at Catholic Church Service in N. Y. City

BURIAL IN HOLLYWOOD

Body Returned to Undertaking Establishment to Await Brother's Coming

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Farewell was said today to Rudolph Valentino. While thousands gathered in the streets, the body of the motion picture idol, who died a week ago, was carried through New York's theatrical district to the Church of St. Malachy—"the actors' chapel"—and there, while scores wept, priests intoned the prayers for the soul of the dead.

Then the body was returned to the gold room of the funeral chapel, where it will await the coming of Valentino's brother, on Wednesday. The body will be sent to Hollywood to be buried among other great of the movie world.

George Ullman announced this afternoon that the body will leave New York in a special car attached to "The Wolverine," crack New York Central limited, Wednesday, at 5 p. m.

The body will be accompanied by Ullman, Pola Negri and Valentino's brother, who arrives on the Homeric Wednesday morning.

Ullman said the body will arrive in Hollywood "about Sunday morning."

Given Elaborate Funeral.
Valentino, who came to this country as an Italian gardener and became the screen's greatest lover, was given a funeral such as is reserved only for the highest in the public regard.

Uncounted thousands of men and women—chiefly women and girls—saw the funeral cortege move slowly down Broadway to the church.

Mary Pickford, Pola Negri, Constance and Norma Talmadge, Douglas Fairbanks and other of the stars of moviedom wept as the solemn voice of the priest intoned the mass for the dead.

In the chapel were only 500 persons, a motley crowd which ranged from the great of moviedom down to unknown Italians, who could tell of the days when Valentino was a schoolboy, of Castellana, Italy.

The casket was carried down the aisle and placed in front of the altar. It shone in the dimly lighted and simple interior of the church, the rays of six tall candles around it reflecting against the grey bronze of the coffin.

Blanket or Roses Removed
The blanket of roses was removed—three bright buds drooping to the floor and resting there through the service, the only bit of color nearby.

Pola Negri was given a seat in the sixth row, nearest to the casket. Behind her sat Jean Acker. Both were in tears. Behind them were other mourners, including Mary Pickford, Constance and Norma Talmadge, and Mrs. Van Horn, representing Winifred Hudnut, Valentino's second wife, all crying.

An hour before the time set for the funeral services for the actor, who died a week ago, thousands were in Broadway and more than 500 people were assigned to the special duty of handling the throngs.

Two thousand milled around the Campbell funeral home, where Valentino rested, awaiting the moment of removal of the body to St. Malachy's church.

Jean Acker, first wife of Valentino, was the first to arrive at the funeral home. Soon after came Marc Connelly, George Ullman, and then George Ullman and his wife, and Pola Negri, Valentino's fiancée, wearing black with a heavy black mourning veil. Mary Pickford came soon after.

TRAGEDIES ON PACIFIC COAST TAKE 18 LIVES

Motor Car Most Effective Weapon in Week-End Killings in West

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Tragic death took varied forms in claiming 18 lives in Pacific coast states over the week-end.

The automobile, as always, was death's most effective weapon, killing eight.

Accidental death while hunting claimed two lives. Tetanus, resulting from a cap pistol wound, took the life of a 14-year-old Seattle boy. Four persons were drowned. An unidentified man, whose body was taken from the sea near San Mateo, Calif., was believed a victim of rum runners.

Mother Dies Saving Son
A Watsonville, Calif., woman, Mrs. Freda Stewart, was killed in saving her 2-year-old son from death in an automobile accident. Bending over the boy and shielding him with her body, she received the full impact of a collision with another machine and died instantly. The boy was unscratched.

Mrs. Mary Frear, wife of W. E. Frear, former governor of Hawaii, was near death as a result of an automobile accident in which Mrs. W. D. Murphy, Los Angeles, was killed, near San Diego.

Mrs. Murphy, driving, backed her automobile, in which Mrs. Frear was a passenger, into a freight train, derailling it.

Of the 18 deaths, 12 occurred in California. Nearly 70 injuries were reported, the majority from California.

The death toll, as reported to the United Press by states:

CALIFORNIA
Santa Ana—Mrs. Melba Fields, 25, Los Angeles, automobile accident.

Long Beach—C. A. Oisen, 61, drowned in surf.

Van Nuys—Henry Peterson, 15, accidental shotgun wound.

Los Angeles—George B. Tubbs, 65, suicide by slashing throat.

Mrs. W. D. Murphy, Los Angeles, automobile accident.

King City—Mrs. Freda Stewart, Watsonville, automobile accident.

GIRL DIES IN AUTO CRASH; JAIL FIANCE

SWERVES FROM ROAD

Accident Caused Deliberately, Is Hint Given by Companion in Death Car

ONE WOMAN was killed and 11 persons were injured in seven automobile accidents, reported in Orange county Saturday and Sunday. Of those injured, five were reported to be seriously hurt.

Miss Melva Fields, 22, pretty Los Angeles girl, residing at 820 West Tenth street, was killed instantly at 5:15 p. m., Saturday, when the automobile, in which she was riding with Paul Clifton, 23, also of Los Angeles, and J. W. Kennedy, 2348 American avenue, Long Beach, overtook the "S" curve, a few feet east of the Fifth street bridge over the Santa Ana river.

Kennedy was seriously hurt. He was taken to the Orange County hospital, where he is said to be suffering from fractures of both hips and probable internal injuries of serious nature. Clifton escaped injury, with the exception of a few minor cuts about the face.

Clifton Held in Jail
Clifton was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Don Mezger a few minutes after the accident and is being held in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Clifton, in jail, stated today that he was not the driver of the machine at the time it, turned over, but that the machine belonged to Kennedy and that Kennedy was driving.

His story is denied by Kennedy, who declared from his cot in the hospital that he turned the wheel over to Clifton on Fifth street, Santa Ana, just prior to the accident, and that he was of the opinion that Clifton deliberately swerved the car, while traveling at a high rate of speed, causing it to overturn.

According to a statement made by Kennedy, the Fields girl and Clifton came to Santa Ana with him for the purpose of obtaining a marriage license, only to find the license bureau closed Saturday afternoon. He said that they drove to the home of Joe Backs, county clerk, in an effort to have him issue the couple a license, but that they did not find Backs at home.

"This seemed to worry Clifton a great deal and he was angry because they could not get the license. I never have seen such an expression on a man's face," Kennedy said.

"Meant to Kill Us"
Asked if he thought that Clifton turned the car over intentionally, Kennedy said that he was certain of it. "He meant to kill all three of us," he declared. "I understand that he says now that he was not driving the car. I would like to face him and have him tell me that he was not driving it."

Kennedy, who is a mechanic in Long Beach, said that he came to Santa Ana as the best man for the couple's wedding.

Miss Fields was killed instantly, in the opinion of officials, who hurried to the scene of the accident. Officers have asked several witnesses to the accident to appear before the coroner's jury this afternoon in the hope that they can establish who it was at the wheel at the time the machine turned over.

The body of the girl was taken to the Winifred Mission. Funeral home, where it will be held pending the arrival of the girl's father, who wired from Dallas, Tex., that he would arrive in Santa Ana today.

Man Held for Slaying of Police Judge

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Aug. 30.—E. T. McKellegon, a confectioneer, was held here today on charges of murdering John H. Robinson, police judge and city manager.

McKellegon was ordered bound over to the superior court for trial, following a coroner's inquest into the shooting, which occurred at the confectioneer's home.

He admitted the shooting at the coroner's inquest, declaring he felt it was justified.

15 NATIONS IN GENEVA PARLEY OVER COUNCIL

Discussions Over Permanent Membership in Body Scheduled

(United Press)
GENEVA, Aug. 30.—Representatives of 15 nations met here today in a final effort to solve the problems arising from various claims to permanent membership in the League of Nations council and thereby to permit the Locarno agreements for security and arbitration to become effective.

The 19 nations whose representatives compose the council, and representatives of Germany, Argentina, Poland, China and Switzerland, were represented on the league's commission for reorganization of the council. Foreign Minister Motta of Switzerland, presided over the commission. The commission hopes to solve its problems before the league assembly meets, next month.

The principal business of the commission was expected to be as follows:

1—To secure Germany's immediate entry into the league at any cost.

2—To prevent the creation of additional permanent council seats, except one for Germany.

3—To obtain final adoption of Viscount Cecil's project for two or three additional non-permanent council seats, whose possessors would have the right of re-election as semi-permanent members.

4—To prevent Spain from interfering with the above program, as she is trying to do by connecting her claim to Tangier with the council dispute.

The Spanish representative on the commission, M. Palacios, today reiterated Spain's demand for a permanent council seat and insisted that the commission take final action thereon.

U. S. WARNS NICARAGUAN ARMY CHIEF

LEAGUE ACTION HINTED

Washington Would Resent Interference As Violation of Monroe Doctrine

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30.—Revolutionary troops are expected to attack Bluefields, Nicaragua, today, according to state department advices.

U. S. marines have landed there to protect American lives and property.

The department has ordered American Charge d'Affaires Dennis to deliver a sharp communication to Chamorro, whose military government of Nicaragua it does not recognize.

In order to avoid interference between Chamorro and the revolutionists, it is believed the American force of occupation may follow the precedent of last May and declare Bluefields a neutral zone.

With the U. S. S. Calveston and marines at Bluefields, on the east coast, reports were expected today of the arrival of the U. S. S. Tulsa at Corinto, on the west coast.

Any interference by the League of Nations, following Chamorro's protest to it against alleged Mexican government support of the Nicaraguan revolutionists, would be resented by the United States as violation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Officials would not comment on this delicate aspect of the situation, but it was generally believed here that Article 21 of the league covenant, recognizing the Monroe Doctrine, would prevent league action.

BATTLE FLEET ON WAY TO SAN PEDRO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The battle fleet, 70 ships and 23,000 men, sailed out of San Francisco bay today, after 10 days at anchor.

Sailors' shore leave, officers' entertainment at San Franciscans, at tea and dances aboard ship, civic functions honoring visiting officers and men ended yesterday.

The fleet will steam south to San Pedro, where on Wednesday, it will go forth for gunnery practice. After a stay at the San Pedro base, it will proceed to the Panama canal for its voyage to Atlantic waters, where it will winter.

The voyage to San Pedro is the last under command of Adm. S. S. Robison. Saturday, he will hand down his flag and that of C. F. Hughes will take its place.

Former Alaskan Jurist Succumbs

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Funeral services will be conducted here next Saturday for Judge John I. Winn, 64, former jurist in the state of Washington and the Alaskan territory.

Judge Winn died of heart disease, after a brief illness. Interment will be in Overwood cemetery, Inglewood.

Judge Winn formerly was president of the Alaska Bar association and corporate counsel for the Alaska Steamship company. He was a brother-in-law of Senator Pyle of Washington.

Tuesday morning. It was intimated today that the funeral would be held in Compton. Miss Fields was a clerk in the hosiery department of a downtown department store in Los Angeles, according to Kennedy.

Admits He Was Drinking When questioned today regarding the accident, Clifton said that he had received word from his attorney, O. A. Jacobs, not to talk in regard to the case. He admitted, however, that he had been drinking prior to the accident.

Five persons were hurt, two seriously, when three machines "piled" on the San Diego highway, south of the Orange county line, at 9:30 last night, according to an incomplete report filed at the sheriff's office.

According to the report, one of the machines crowded an approaching car off the road, forcing it into a machine that was trailing the first automobile.

Jake Birch, 1515 West Twenty-eighth street, Los Angeles, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital suffering from severe cuts about the head; F. A. Silky, of the same address, driver of one of the machines, also is in the hospital, severely hurt; E. Clapp, of the Glen Ivy hotel, Glen Ivy, was cut and bruised; Benny Pierce, of Corona, is in the county hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises, and a man, named Wood, giving a Santa Ana address, was said to have been taken to Oceanside, in a serious condition.

The report was made to the sheriff's office by F. G. Yoder, state officer.

Boy Seriously Hurt

Leland Bonham, 12, son of Mrs. Margaret Bonham, Buena Park, suffered a fractured skull last night, when he was struck by an automobile said to have been driven by Gordon McComber, also of Buena Park. The lad is in the Anaheim Community hospital in a serious condition.

According to reports, the Bonham boy, who was on roller skates, started to cross Grand avenue, in Buena Park, without looking to see if the way was clear. McComber was driving south on Grand avenue when the accident occurred. The lights from another car blinded him and he did not see the lad until too late to stop, it was reported.

The boy was attended by Dr. Foster, in Buena Park, and then rushed to the hospital.

Girl Struck

Margaret Van Meter, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Van Meter, of Liberty Gardens, near Huntington Beach, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital today, recovering from injuries received when she was struck by a machine said to have been driven by Charles T. Dalzell, of 213 Third street, Huntington Beach. The girl suffered two broken legs and severe cuts and bruises. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon.

Roy Mansfield, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mansfield, of 2119 Gramercy street, Torrance, was slightly injured in an accident at Sixteenth street and Ocean avenue, Huntington Beach, yesterday, when the car, in which he was riding, was struck by a hit and run driver. The Mansfield car overturned. Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield escaped injury.

Jose Garcia and an unidentified companion narrowly escaped injury yesterday, when their car became unmanageable and ran over a large pile of telephone poles on Third street, in Huntington Beach. The four wheels on the Garcia car were broken.

Miss Emily Lu Brooks, 933 West Fairview street, Santa Ana, received treatment in the Santa Ana Valley hospital late yesterday afternoon for severe cuts and bruises, according to a report from the hospital.

Spaniards Claim Honor of Landing First In Hawaii

HONOLULU, Aug. 30.—Was Hawaii discovered first by Spaniards?

This question has interested historians and geographers here since the finding of an ancient Spanish coin by workers digging in an old Hawaiian garden. The coin was dated 1774 and bore the inscription, "Carolus III Dei Gratia."

Capt. James Cook, British voyager, to whom the discovery of Hawaii by white men is generally attributed, came to the islands in 1778 on his first trip. There has long been a tradition that Spaniards preceded him. One story was that the Spaniards touched Hawaii while sailing to the Philippines. Hawaii had been peopled for more than 1000 years, according to the best evidence obtainable.

Long ago brown islanders, journeying from group to group in their great canoes, came here from the south, probably from Samoa. The finding of the Spanish coin is not of itself enough to upset the story that Cook was the first white man to visit the islands and make his discovery known to the world, but it is giving the antiquarians a fresh theme for discussion.

The little tidewater town is determined that the world shall know the whole truth about the North Carolina Washington.

Washington, N. C., automobile now carry tags proclaiming it the "Original Washington," and giving the date of its founding in the eighteenth century.

funeral director, preceded the hearse.

Next rode Jean Acker, Mrs. O'Shaughnessy Van Horn and Aesguu Casseralla, a boyhood friend of Valentino.

Norma and Constance Talmadge and Mary Pickford followed, and after them a line of other cars—all friends making a final pilgrimage with the body of the actor.

Thousands Line Streets

Thousands lined the streets as the cortege moved through the theatrical district—a bright sun shining on the "Great White Way." As the body passed, many doffed their hats in tribute. A cordon of mounted police and motorcycle officers led the way. Foot police maintained lines firmly, but with only a little difficulty.

Around the church, a throng was held back by lines of patrolmen standing shoulder to shoulder, with arms locked.

As the church was reached, Pola Negri was weeping steadily. The pallbearers lifted the heavy casket from the hearse and carried it into the church.

Miss Negri, leaning on the arm of George Ullman, Valentino's personal manager, followed immediately, and behind her came Jean Acker.

Over the casket was a great blanket of pink roses and smilax, the tribute of Miss Negri.

Watch from Windows

Thousands watched from the windows of buildings from roofs and from points of vantage. On the streets and in the windows most of the watchers were women and girls.

At the church door stood the Rev. Father Edward F. Leonard, priest of St. Malachy's, and his two deacons, the Rev. Fathers William Donahue, of the Catholic Actors' guild, and Joseph Congedo, who came from Valentino's home town in Italy.

As the casket was borne in, Father Leonard blessed it and sprinkled holy water on it.

Inside the church, each of the 500 seats was occupied by someone who had been selected from among the thousands of applicants, to be admitted to the services.

The dim light from high windows fell softly on images and sacred ornaments. The organ played Spohr's Miserere.

DISCOVERS PLANT HAS SIXTH SENSE

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Plants not only have their vices, vanities and regular hours of sleep, but some possess a sixth sense as well, according to Sir Jagadis Bose, one of Britain's greatest scientists and authorities on plant life.

The sixth sense possessed by certain species is a mysterious force which permits them to detect minute changes in the intensity of light, changes that go unnoticed by the human eye.

The mimosa plant spends its life in a leisurely way. It wakes gradually between 8 and 9 o'clock and noon, remaining alert until evening and falling fully asleep only in the early hours of the morning.

Sir Jagadis has perfected a marvelous piece of apparatus which gives plants under observation a questioning shock every hour of the day and night and records the answers.

CANNING RECORD

HONOLULU, Aug. 30.—All previous records of daily output were broken here recently when the cannery of the Hawaiian Pineapple company turned out 75,500 cases of pineapple in 24 hours. This represents 1,335,000 cans. The pineapple pack is exceptionally large this year, with the new fields on the island of Lanai sending in their first harvest.

and that Tuesday's election will show "vindication for my platform."

Other Republican gubernatorial candidates are R. F. McClellan, Los Angeles; W. D. Mitchell, Fresno, and Mayo Thomas, Los Angeles.

In Democratic ranks, Isidore B. Dockweiler, Los Angeles, and Justus S. Wardell, San Francisco, are campaigning for nomination as U. S. Senator and governor, opposed to John B. Elliott, Los Angeles, and Carl Alexander Johnson, San Diego. The latter have the backing of the McAdoo factions. The former are endorsed by former Senator James D. Phelan, Gavin McNab, H. H. McKee, O. K. Cushing, Randolph V. Whiting and other Democratic leaders.

Upton Sinclair Candidate

Upton Sinclair is another candidate for gubernatorial nomination, running unopposed on the Socialist ticket.

Predictions appeared to sift down to a general forecast of "six of this and half a dozen of that." In the race for Republican senatorial nomination between Samuel M. Shortridge, incumbent, and Judge Robert M. Clarke.

Shortridge, in a final statement today, said: "As the primary election approaches, I rest my case with the people of California, confident of victory at the polls next Tuesday. I have stood in this campaign, as I have for more than 40 years in this state, upon the Republican platform, supporting Republican policies and principles."

Predict Clarke Victory

Clarke campaign managers said: "Judge Robert M. Clarke will win the Republican nomination by a comfortable margin Tuesday. This statement is made, following a thorough survey of northern California by Clarke's San Francisco managers and the receipt of most encouraging reports from Southern California."

Voters tomorrow also will name their choices of nominees for district, congressional, legislative, county and non-partisan judicial and school offices.

Congressmen are to be nominated in the 11 California districts. In five of these, incumbents were reported to be taking things easily, with little worry as to the outcome.

Warm local fights prevail over the entire state for municipal and county offices.

Indorsement not Given Candidates By Laguna C. of C.

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 30.—Foster Elliott, president of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, issued a statement today calling attention to the fact that no political candidates have been indorsed by the chamber of commerce in the present political campaign and that on August 30 the following resolution was adopted:

"Be it resolved, that religious and political discussion or indorsement of individuals for political office shall not be permitted in this organization."

Elliott declared that his statement was the result of the publication, in The Register, by a candidate for supervisor in the fifth district, of a political advertisement, in which was reproduced a letter written to the candidate, in 1924, by the then secretary of the Laguna organization.

The letter in the advertisement bore no date and an opponent of the candidate who inserted the ad, asked Elliott if there had been any indorsement of candidates. Elliott referred to the minutes of the organization, which showed the action taken this year.

Most Women

Have stopped old hygienic methods to assure real immaculacy. NEW way gives true protection—discards like tissue FEW modern women but employ a new and different way in hygiene. A way that supplants the old-time "sanitary pad" with true protection.

Wear filmy frocks and light things... any time. Dance, motor for hours without doubt or fear.

It is called "KOTEX"... five times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad!

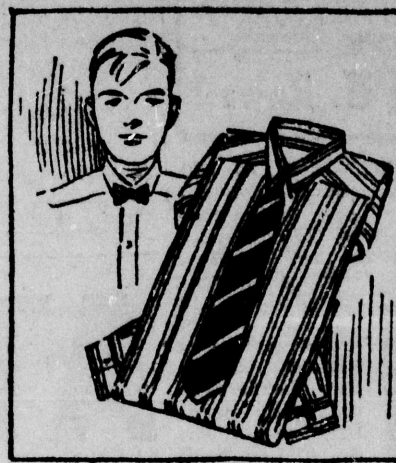

Thoroughly deodorizes... thus ending ALL fear of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it without hesitancy at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Costs only a few cents. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

A WORD OF COMFORT
In childhood you possessed the grace of innocence; in youth you gloried in your strength; age has brought you experience. Attractive as was your innocence, your power, your knowledge, gained through hours of study, is more use to the world than all else. Men can see now what God does for one who depends upon him for capacity to be and to do. By your example others are roused from gloom and despair.

FUNERAL RITES TOMORROW FOR J. G. PARSONS

Funeral services for Joseph Garrett Parsons, 45, pioneer Santa Ana resident and for the last 22 years owner of a store in Talbert, will be held at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Smith and Tutthill undertaking parlors. The Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, will officiate. Santa Ana lodge, No. 241, F. and A. M., will be in charge.

Parsons died Sunday after a brief illness. Heart trouble was given as the cause of death. Parsons moved to Santa Ana in 1890 with his mother, Mrs. Lena H. Parsons. He was born in Canton, Mo., Oct. 16, 1881. In 1904, he started a store in Talbert with John Tubbs, former mayor of Santa Ana, as his partner.

Parsons had been married twice. His first wife, formerly Miss Belle Graham, was killed about seven years ago in an automobile accident. Besides being a popular business man, Parsons was a well-known club man, belonging to the Santa Ana Country club and the Lions club. He also was a Shriner, and a member of the Elks lodge.

Parsons is survived by his widow, Mrs. Chispa Parsons, who formerly was Miss Chispa Griffin; one brother, J. Fred Parsons, Santa Ana druggist; and four sisters, Miss Pauline Parsons, of Santa Ana; Addie Hervey and Mrs. Betty Woodill, of Glendale; and Mrs. Harvey Graham, of Washington, D. C. He was a nephew of the late John D. Parsons.

The body will be cremated and the remains interred in Evergreen cemetery, Los Angeles.

ALLEGED SLAYER IS VISITED BY BISHOP

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Gregory S. Lines, pastor of the American Catholic church, Los Angeles, yesterday was a visitor at the cell of Philip A. Goodwin, actor-priest, charged with the murder of J. J. Patterson, Los Angeles bond broker.

Bishop Lines stated that he merely came to pay a visit to Goodwin, who is being held here pending trial in the superior court. It is the first time Lines has been here since Goodwin was brought back from New York. Lines is said to have ordained Goodwin.

RACE TIPSTERS TO BE MUZZLED SOON

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A muzzle is shortly to be applied to exponents of a peculiarly British form of industry—the business of oratorical tipster on the races. These human loud speakers have been holding forth in numbers for some time on the outskirts of London's popular open-air debating ground, Hyde park, and their noisy and voluble career has finally been adjudged a nuisance.

The muzzling ordinance is embodied in a government bill in parliament that provides that any person delivering a speech or address imparting information concerning betting or racing, "or advertising that such information can be obtained elsewhere," shall be liable to a five pound fine.

The office of works was rather apologetic in commenting on the measure—an abridgment of the traditional British liberty of speech. An official expressed dislike at "making rules that interfere with the liberty of the subject," but explained that in this case there had been an undoubted abuse of liberty, as the number of tipsters had so increased as to constitute an annoyance to the public.

Former General For Czar Now Is Circus Performer

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Aug. 30.—From the pomp and power of a Russian nobleman's position and a generalship in the "Little Father's" forces to that of a musician in a circus band is a long drop but a necessary one for Count Zouboff, who told his tale to Sam Glass, a merchant, while in this city. Glass knew the count in the czar's realm.

Zouboff's full name is Gregory Nicolavich Graff Zouboff, the name Graff denoting his rank. "Surely I would like to better my position in the world," Zouboff said. "However, I have no choice in the matter. But still I am fortunate in a way as there are many others of my countrymen of fame and prominence in Russia in the former days who I am sorry to say are not faring as well as I. In fact, thousands of them are eeking out a pitiful existence in the cities of France and England."

"America is an amazing country, and it is my desire to learn the English language and American ways well enough to obtain a better position in life and remain here."

SCHOOL MONEY REQUIREMENTS ATTRACT KICKS

Complaints that families with limited means find it difficult to meet the various financial requirements placed upon girl students in the senior high school, which, when added together, amounts to considerable money, have reached Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, president of the Santa Ana city federation of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Inquiries made by Mrs. Spangler revealed that girl students at the high school will be called upon to furnish money for the following requirements for the next school year:

Book deposit and student body fund, $8; swimming pool and bathing suit deposit, $4; towel service at swimming pool, $2; chemistry deposit, $3; glee club, $5.

In addition to these charges, the students, at frequent intervals, are called upon for contributions for various drives, which, in the aggregate, run into several dollars.

While these calls may mean little to families that are in comfortable circumstances, they represent a real hardship upon families with limited means, Mrs. Spangler declared. In some instances, to save a student humiliation and embarrassment, parents are forced to make a real sacrifice to supply the required amount.

She added that representations will be made to the school board with a view to reducing "extras" to the lowest possible.

Police News

Charged with being drunk, Rudy Goetz, Delhi, was arrested yesterday by Dan Adams, deputy sheriff. He was lodged in jail.

Given a fine of $10, with an alternate of spending as many days in jail, W. C. Pink, Serra, charged with embezzlement in connection with the theft of several tools, was brought to the county jail from San Juan Capistrano, Saturday night, by Dan Adams, deputy sheriff.

Judges Marks and Ames Clearly State Stand on 18th Amendment

Editor Register: In order that there may be no misunderstanding relative to our attitude on the Eighteenth Amendment, we desire to reiterate at this time that it is our firm conviction that the Eighteenth Amendment is a permanent part of the Constitution of this United States, and entitled to the undivided support of every citizen and especially of the Judiciary. We do not favor any modification of the Volstead Act or of the Wright Act unless such modification is for the purpose of strengthening the same.

These laws were designed to carry into effect the Eighteenth Amendment, and any attempt to abridge their powers would be vicious legislation.

DR. BALL'S STATEMENT IN REPLY TO CIRCULAR

Editor Register: In view of the fact that Orange county today is being flooded by literature, apparently printed as eleventh hour appeal, allow me this additional and closing word on the Metropolitan water bill.

This bill will not give the district any more right of "eminent domain" for condemning water rights than is held by Los Angeles city or any other city of California at this time.

Los Angeles has gone to the Owens valley and legally under eminent domain taken that water. Unless Los Angeles can get Colorado river water, where will it turn next?

Our salvation is to aid in getting Colorado river water so that cities will not exert their power of eminent domain upon water now used for irrigation.

The literature sent out looks to me as though it is power company stuff to scare the people into voting against me. I am sending this to you at 1:30 today, hoping it may not be too late to reach you in time for press.

Vacationers in North Attend Tea Given In Monterey

Of much interest to local social circles was the beautiful tea given recently at Monterey by Bishop and Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson and at which a little group of Santa Anans, vacationing in Carmel and Monterey were among the guests.

Their host is bishop of the Los Angeles diocese and he and Mrs. Johnson are enjoying the summer in the north, staying at the Del Monte hotel. They staged their friendly hospitality in one of the private rooms of the Tea and Gift Shop at Monterey, where surroundings were unusually artistic and where the gaily decorated china was in keeping with other appointments.

After tea was served, the guests enjoyed examining the various curios, including quaint little toys and the most fascinating books imaginable.

Santa Anans sharing the afternoon's pleasures were The Rev. W. L. H. Benton and Mrs. Benton, Miss Jean Battersby, Miss Kate Benton and her house-guest, Miss Louise Stephenson. There were also guests from Hollywood together with many from the north to enjoy the hospitality of Bishop and Mrs. Johnson.

The Benton party is spending some time in the north and among the outings which the members have shared was a picnic at Point Lobos and a trip into the Big Basin.

Week-end Offers Gay And Varied Events At Yacht Club

END of the week at Newport Harbor Yacht club was the usual happy combination of sailing events, cards and dancing thus suiting all tastes of the enthusiastic sportsmen and women of the club membership.

Friday's bridge luncheon attracted quite a crowd of femininity with several guests entertained. Saturday afternoon was given over to sailing events with Star boats in their glory and the sea mews and marions not far behind.

Saturday night's dance attracted a crowd almost equaling the affairs of Regatta week, and the merry-makers danced to the music of the Los Angeles orchestra which proved such a favorite at that time. Dinner preceding the dance, was quite a brilliant function with many of the guests enjoying the hour at tables arranged outside the dining-room. For dinner al fresco is quite as delightful a feature as may be enjoyed at the club since the outlook over the bay is so pleasing.

Yesterday's sailing events were scheduled to be run over the ocean course but with the unusually stiff breeze kicking up such a sea and the storm signal flying at the harbor entrance, they were held on the bay instead.

Laborer Is Hurt In Newport Beach

Injured while working on a subway being constructed by the Southern Pacific in Newport Beach, Oscar Munson, 1108 West Ninth street, Los Angeles, was brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital early today. Hospital attendants said his injuries were not serious. Details of the accident were not received here.

SANTA ANA BOY RETURNS FROM SEA VACATION

Francis Horton, son of J. C. Horton, has returned home from a 10,000-mile cruise in southern waters as freight clerk aboard the motor ship City of San Francisco, registered in Cristobal, Panama. He shipped from San Francisco on June 23, completing the round trip on August 23.

Francis, who attends high school in Santa Ana, thus spent a colorful summer vacation visiting ports in Guatemala, Salvador, the Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and the Canal Zone. He describes his trip through the Panama canal, through the Miraflores Locks, Pedro Miguel, Culebra and Gatun, as a marvelous experience always to be remembered.

Horton spent some time in Cristobal while his ship was unloading and taking on cargo. He says that every transaction among the natives is barter and trade that the Central American loves an argument about price and cheerfully will lose a half dozen sales to keep up his end of the argument.

Young Horton describes his views of the native volcanoes of Acajutla, Salvador and other places as a feature of his trip. He says that one of his most striking impressions of the Canal Zone was the extreme cleanliness; even the docks are kept in almost spotless order, he says.

ATTACK MADE ON YOUNG ANSWERED

STOCKTON, Aug. 30. — An eleventh-hour attack on C. C. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was answered by C. L. Neumiller, chairman of the Republican State Central committee.

The story had been told that Young had not supported President Coolidge in the campaign two years ago.

Neumiller said today: "As chairman of the Republican State Central committee, I appointed C. C. Young a member of the executive committee, of that committee, which conducted the campaign for Coolidge. The records also show that Lieutenant Governor Young was a member and a vice president of the Berkeley Coolidge-for-President club. Mr. Young worked for the election of President Coolidge and helped to carry California for him. Stories to the contrary are false and too foolish to be worthy of consideration."

Horton's August Furniture Sale

Tomorrow, Aug. 31

This sale, which is our annual "party" and which represents a month of the highest type of service within our power to home-makers, ends tomorrow. It has been a month devoted to reducing the costs of buying furniture, bringing the thought of BETTER furniture to the home, and exceptionally EASY TERMS to make it possible for the greatest number to buy furniture at the lowered costs, and a better type of furniture.

The sale itself ends tomorrow—and we will welcome you who would like to "look around."

Easy Payments

One of the best features of the sale is that a small payment down will buy any article AT ITS REDUCED PRICE. Thus, without any great outlay, you can take advantage of the savings in the sale now when they are available, paying for the furnishings gradually as you use them.

Exchange Used Pieces

Another service feature which has been used extensively this month is the Exchange Department. We accept used furniture as part payment on new furniture. It often acts as the first payment, the balance being divided into easy monthly or weekly payments to suit you.

Miss Grisct Discloses
Date of Wedding to Mining Engineer

INK and yellow dahlia, pretty girls in flimsy summer frocks and a delightful hospitality were all in evidence at a party of the week-end, whose outstanding feature was the announcement of the wedding date of one of the hostesses, Miss Ida Helene Grisct to J. Hamilton Ashley.

Sharing hostess responsibilities with Miss Grisct was Miss Ruth Langley and the party was given in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grisct, 1444 South Main street. With the greeting of the guests, the hostesses had the pleasure of presenting their sorority sister, Miss Esther Louise Hodge of Lomita, whose betrothal to Charles Cook of this city, was recently announced. Miss Velma Miller is another sorority sister of the trio.

Bridge was the amusement of the evening and was followed by the award of attractive prizes to Miss Hodge, holder of high score and Miss Marian Quigley, scoring low.

Assisted by Mrs. J. D. Grisct, the young hostesses then arranged the card tables with exquisite linens, centered each with a perfect rose in a slender bud vase and placed harmonious little nut cups at each place for the serving of a two-course supper.

It was when the second course was served that the wedding date was revealed, for the dainty cakes each concealed a wee card bearing the names of Miss Grisct and Mr. Ashley, and the date, October 12, 1926.

Miss Grisct is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grisct and after completing the high school course here, entered the University of California, southern branch, where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ashley of Nevada and is a graduate of Berkeley where he was a member of Tau Beta Pi fraternity. He now holds a responsible position as mining engineer in Mexico.

Those to whom the interesting date was revealed included in addition to Miss Grisct's co-hostess, Miss Langley, the Misses Henrietta Chase, Josephine Sandy, Helen Sandy, Mabel Harvey, Tessie Childers, Persana Deimling, Mildred Fessman, Florence Fessman, Velma Miller, Melvina Frye, Alla Neely, Phyllis Mitchell, Mrs. Henry Le Bard, Mrs. James Dickinson, all of this city; Miss Marian Forsyth, Miss Betty Brush, Los Angeles; Miss Hazel Louise Hodge, Lomita; Miss Esther Rudbach, Miss Eva Rudbach, San Pedro; Miss Marian Quigley, Glendale, and Miss Helen Martin, Santa Monica.

Popular Girl Reveals
Her Betrothal to Well-known Man

R. AND MRS. N. J. Warner of 204 1-2 South Sycamore street, today announced informally to their friends, the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Mildred Warner, to J. Simon Fluor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fluor sr., 1514 North Main street.

The countless friends of the young people have anticipated the announcement for some time and were delighted today when their surmises were verified. Miss Warner is one of the city's loveliest girls, her beauty being of a sparkling brunette type. Her fiancé is one of the prominent young business men of the city, and is secretary of the Fluor Construction company of which his father is president.

The young people are making no announcement as yet of their wedding plans but their friends anticipate it as an event of autumn or early winter, since Miss Warner has resigned her position with the R. E. Campbell company, a bond house of Los Angeles.

Young People Enjoy
Swimming Party

A beach party affording a great deal of merriment was held last Thursday at Balboa beach when the Misses Lucile Harrison and Katherine Walbridge were hostesses for the M. S. club. Swimming was the main form of entertainment, every one enjoying a swim in both the ocean and bay. Hot dogs, buttered corn and ice cream lollipops were served after the swim.

The members who enjoyed the afternoon were the Misses Josephine Ball, Maxim Overton, Marian Adamson, Mary Blakeman and Janet Briggs.

HAPPY CELEBRATION IN SHAVER HOME

To Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shaver, 425 West Eighth street, has come an experience that is given to few denizens of this old world of ours to enjoy—the privilege of celebrating their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary. For sixty-five busy years, the happy couple have watched spring creeping along over green hills. For sixty-five years they have together, watched the approach of August and their wedding day and for nearly a score of those years, they have enjoyed the occasion together in California, the golden state.

Saturday, August 28, this year's return of the anniversary date, was a gala occasion in the cozy home on West Eighth street, and never were seen more beautiful flowers than those which transformed the rooms into fragrant gardens. Miss Ellenora Shaver, daughter of the home, had arranged a bower of asparagus fern and smilax entwined with gold and lavender blossoms, and other flowers in rich hues and amazing variety, were showered on the honored pair, by scores of their friends.

At mid-day there was a family dinner with relatives from other sections, arriving to share the happy occasion. In the afternoon, open house was maintained, and nearly a hundred friends called to express their interest and affection. Fruit punch and a variety of delicious home-made cakes were served.

Mrs. Shaver was a picture of serene and lovely age in a gown of orchid silk with a cascade of lace at the throat. The costume, including stockings to match, was a surprise gift from her family. Miss Shaver having conspired with neighbors to have it completed in time for the day.

Many handsome gifts were presented them in addition to the flowers and many boxes of fine bonbons. An informal program of readings added to the charm of the afternoon. Miss Etta Hale and Miss Goldie Jacobson each gave several appreciated numbers, and Mrs. N. Travis gave three which were appropriate to the occasion. To add to their interest was the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Travis celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary on August 11 at their home on Ross street, and also Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Shaver share the same birthday, April 2.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaver are in their 86th year. Mrs. Shaver having celebrated her birthday in April and Mr. Shaver on July 19. They were born on adjoining farms in Ohio, but Mrs. Shaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winttingham, moved away in her infancy and the two did not meet again until they were fourteen.

Their friendship grew as they did, and in August of 1861 they were wedded, pretty Elizabeth Winttingham and Lewis Shaver. The young man needed a bride to console him for his disappointment at not being accepted for service in the Union army. He had appeared for examination and been rejected, a fact that he now comments on with interest in view of the fact that he has outlived so many of the veterans. Their marriage was in the midst of war's alarms, and the pretty bride expressed her patriotism in her costume. Wee red, white and blue flowers nestled against her dark hair in the fetching little bonnet she wore, and the lace undersleeves of her gown were adorned with the tri-colors.

The young people spent many years in Ohio where their children were born. But when Mrs. Shaver's health became worse, they came to California hoping to benefit by the change. That their hopes were realized, is proven by their present health and happiness.

One son, Morgan D. Shaver, now and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, 120 South Broadway, returned last night from Forest Home. Miss Virginia Grey of Santa Ana and five friends from Glendale were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith in the mountains.

Miss Grace Roberts, 1135 East Washington street, has as her house-guest her friend, Miss Dorothy Smith, of San Jose. Miss Smith expects to remain two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Brown and children, of Spokane, Washington, arrived yesterday to be the guests for several days of Mrs. Laura Looney, 616 South Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith

Mrs. W. T. Locker and son Billie, lives in New Smyrna, Fla., and was unable to be present. His son Maurice, living in Columbus, Ohio, was also absent, but the other members of the family were all present to offer their congratulations and loving wishes.

Relatives and guests included Mrs. M. Lanner, Altha F. Moulton of Hemet, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crose, Mrs. L. T. Bishop, Dr. J. L. Clark, Mrs. J. N. de Groat, Mrs. Belle Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Suffron, Miss Etta Hale, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Schrock, Miss Altha Shaver, baby Eileen Elizabeth Faber, Mrs. F. Finuf and baby Carol Elizabeth, Mrs. L. B. Shaver and L. B. Shaver Jr., Mrs. Iona S. Sharp, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Miss B. Kuehne, Robert De Forest, Mrs. Dora Spangler, Mrs. R. S. Shaver, Mrs. J. D. Clemenson of El Monte, Ruth S. Bishop, Roland S. Shaver, Levi B. Shaver, Mrs. J. S. Talcott, Mrs. T. B. Royce, Mrs. H. C. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodchild and two sons, Virginia Powell, Sallie P. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pendell, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Snow, Mrs. Martha Taylor, Louis Shaver, Norris Shaver, Leoma Shaver, Mrs. Nellie Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. George Ott of Redlands, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Shirk of Chino, Valeria Snow and J. A. Tarpley.

of Mexico, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kimberlin, 616 South Main street.

Miss Ruth Stephenson, 433 West Santa Clara avenue, has as her house-guest, Miss Irene Hagge of Huntington Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rossier, are now welcoming their friends at their home, 1139 West Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Grafton Patterson, of Midland, Tex., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Sanders, 1464 Maple avenue, Santa Ana. They are newlyweds and are on their wedding trip. They will return to Midland within a few days by automobile.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Vote for a Lawyer for Justice of the Peace

MORRIS CAIN

Candidate For

JUSTICE OF

Santa Ana Township

Vote for a LAWYER for Justice of the Peace.

Not that the Lawyer is entitled to any special consideration over other citizens, but that the OFFICE, because of its importance and the fact that it is a COURT OF LAW, demands the services of a Lawyer, someone well versed in law.

Appreciating the importance of a legal education in connection with this office, all candidates therefor have in their advertising and public statements emphasized to the public their legal and educational qualifications. MORRIS CAIN is the only candidate duly ADMITTED TO PRACTICE LAW. He is a University graduate, also a graduate of U. S. C. COLLEGE OF LAW, passed the STATE BAR EXAMINATION, and has PRACTICED LAW in Santa Ana FOURTEEN YEARS.

He pledges himself if elected to ENFORCE ALL LAWS on the statute books fairly and impartially and without prejudice or bias.

The administration of the MOTOR VEHICLE LAW, which has been so emphasized in the press and in political advertising as to give the impression that this comprises the entire work of the Justice's Court. While VERY IMPORTANT, is in reality A VERY SMALL PORTION OF THE WORK OF THAT OFFICE. Morris Cain does not believe in fixed schedules of punishment, as fixed schedules often work injustice. He has pledged himself to consider each case before him in accordance with the EVIDENCE AND SURROUNDING CIRCUMSTANCES. He will enforce this law in accordance with the intentions of the legislature, and believes that the RECKLESS DRIVER should be subjected to severe punishment.

The large part of the work of the Justice's Court is the actual TRIAL OF CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CASES, civil cases up to $300.00, all Misdemeanor criminal cases, and preliminary examination in felony cases. THE SAME QUESTIONS OF LAW AND FACT arise as in larger cases in the Superior Court. THE SAME LAWYERS present and argue these cases, and to decide them correctly and with dispatch requires THE SAME DEGREE OF SKILL AND LEGAL TRAINING as in the larger cases in the Superior Court. And these cases are just as important to the litigants involved as are the larger cases to litigants in the Superior Court.

Almost all cities the size of Santa Ana and larger, realizing the importance of the Justice's Court in their community, REQUIRE THAT THEIR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SHALL BE A LAWYER, and in some instances that he must have had at least five years practice of law.

Why should a successful Lawyer run for Justice of the Peace? Because it is an HONORABLE POSITION and is generally considered to be the best paying position in the Orange County Courthouse.

Morris Cain believes the public is entitled to the benefit of the SMALL CLAIMS COURT (POOR MAN'S COURT). It is a law and entitled to equal enforcement with other laws.

Mr. Cain is a WORLD WAR VETERAN, a resident of Orange County 33 years, and of Santa Ana for 20 years. He is thoroughly familiar with the duties and responsibilities of the Justice Court, and has been a close observer of the City and County needs in reference to traffic and other problems.

Morris Cain bases his candidacy on his qualifications without criticism of the character or integrity of his opponents, and we believe that if the voters will COMPARE THE QUALIFICATIONS of the candidates as they have been emphasized by the various candidates themselves, that they will vote for Morris Cain.

CHEST PLANS ANNOUNCED BY ROLAND E. DYE

Plans for conducting this year's campaign for raising funds for the 1926-27 requirements of the Community Chest of Santa Ana and Tustin are set forth in a statement issued today by Roland E. Dye, secretary and campaign manager of the chest organization.

The procedure of this year's Community Chest campaign, as a result of the experience during the last two years, and as a result of the experience of other Community Chests throughout the country, will be along an entirely different line.

The city is to be divided into 21 districts, each having a captain, with a team of 10 to 20 workers. Every person living within the district is to be listed so that campaign workers will know definitely upon whom they are to call.

The campaign is to cover a larger number of prospects than any previous campaign. There will be more than 7000 prospect cards ready for the campaign, tentative dates which have been set for October 20 to 29, inclusive.

Already work has been started in compiling the list of prospects, which will be checked and rechecked so that all duplicates possible will be avoided.

It is expected that this campaign will prove more efficient and be a real saver of time to the workers, because it will avoid the necessity of workers cross-crossing over trails throughout the campaign.

The time of the campaign has been extended from five to 10 days in keeping with the much larger task which confronts the workers in raising the larger amount of money needed in the Community Chest.

It is hoped that this year's campaign will have at least 5000 subscribers.

Mexican Mayor Is Haled Into Court On Speed Charge

Alfonzo Valencia, mayor of Mexicali, was haled into Justice John Landell's court, in San Juan Capistrano, late Saturday afternoon, after he had been arrested on a charge of speeding 48 miles an hour and after Ernie Sawyer, state traffic officer, was not satisfied that that man had properly identified himself.

In court, Valencia produced several letters, addressed to him, and Landell released him.

He is to return to Capistrano Friday to face the charge of speeding.

CARRIE NATION GHOST STALKS IN OLD HOTEL

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 30.—The ghost of Carrie Nation is stalking again through the old Eaton house, once the Hotel Carey, where, in the saloon resplendent with gold paint and mahogany, the famous woman reformer seized an axe and smashed the bar and cut out ribbons a picture of Venus, painted by John Noble of Wichita, now nationally known artist.

Once more the charges of vice that stirred Mrs. Nation to action have arisen and frequent arrests have been made on immorality warrants in the old house. The Eaton house's astonishing vice conditions, according to a report made recently by I. W. Walston, chief of police of Wichita.

The Eaton house is a historic hotel, built in the late '50s by John B. Carey, and was at the time the pride of the state. It was the first large hotel to be built in Wichita and was, when first built, the stamping ground of the city's aristocracy. Its bar was the gathering place of many a distinguished company, gathered from throughout the southwest.

In 1900 Mrs. Nation was stirred to action. She gave Kansas one of its first tastes of the reformers that were to make the state the pioneer in the prohibition movement. Mrs. Nation found herself in jail as a result of the attack, but it was so successful in arousing public sentiment that she continued.

Now the shadow of ill repute has settled again on the building, and although it has been cleaned out by Walston, it may cause a survey to determine what conditions of vice there are in the city, and the ghost of Mrs. Nation will walk again in its old haunts.

SPEEDER IS GIVEN FIVE DAYS IN JAIL

Charged with speeding 50 miles an hour and failure to identify himself to the officer arresting him, Ed Haver, 19, 4368 Kingswell street, Long Beach, today was sentenced to five days in jail, when he was brought before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Haver was arrested near Gallivan, on the state highway, by Officer Jimmy Cain, who brought the youth into jail when he failed to produce a driver's license and a registration card.

Fred Crain, 21, Munn apartments, Long Beach, was jailed last night when he could not properly identify himself, after Officer George Peterkin had stopped his machine.

OFFICERS CAPTURE 50-GALLON STILL

Sheriff's officers, led by Ed McClellan and Dan Adams, deputy sheriffs, confiscated a 50-gallon still in a house one and one-half miles west of Garden Grove Saturday afternoon.

The still was not being operated at the time and no mash was found, officers said.

Jack Roberts and H. W. McKague, deputy sheriffs, accompanied Adams and McClellan.

Phone Company Presents $3191 Check to City

The city treasury today was enriched to the extent of $3191.11, when the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company presented a check for that amount.

The check represents a franchise tax of two per cent of the gross revenues of the telephone company's Santa Ana exchange, which for the fiscal year 1925-26, amounted to $159,555.74, distributed as follows:

Local exchange service, $147,982.09; toll service, $11,573.65.

Dr. Bulpitt Back From Eastern Trip

Dr. J. M. Bulpitt returned home yesterday from a month's visit in the east, during which time he took up post graduate work in surgery.

Bulpitt visited in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Rochester, Minn.

While in Philadelphia, Bulpitt attended the Sesqui-Centennial exposition. He declared the exposition to be $2,000,000 in the hole. Bulpitt declared it rained every day he was in New York and Philadelphia, but the weather was fair when he arrived in Chicago.

Police News

Five men, charged with vagrancy, were arrested over the week end by city officers, who found them sleeping in box cars on railroad property. All were lodged in jail and probably will be brought before City Recorder J. F. Talbot today. The men are Kenneth Hand, 20; Arthur Lambert, 25; Fred Wilson, 50; Frank Gavagan, 21, and Robert Trapp, 22.

Charged with being drunk, Pete Adams, 36, was arrested yesterday by Officers Holmes, Swain and Elliott.

CANDIDACY OF DOCKWEILER IS GIVEN SUPPORT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Mattison D. Jones, member of the Democratic state central committee, one time gubernatorial candidate and chairman of the Democratic organization seeking to nominate Isidore B. Dockweiler for the senate, yesterday issued a statement in which he said:

"Hitherto, I have not deemed even worthy of answer the disreputable effort being made to link Mr. Dockweiler's candidacy with Tammany influence, alleged to be seeking to get control over California. Mr. Dockweiler's opponent has, however, persisted in his vicious attack, despite the fact that Mr. Dockweiler himself effectually answered and publicly denied the charge within a day or so after it first appeared. If a simple and convincing answer be wanted, it is to be found in this:

"That Nineteen of the 26 California delegates to the 1924 Democratic national convention, in New York, who voted consistently for Mr. McAdoo, have unreservedly endorsed Mr. Dockweiler. Ex-Senator Phelan vigorously backs him; so does Oscar Cushing, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, when California went for Wilson; so does Gavin McNab, national campaign chairman of the western states when they went for Wilson; so does ex-Congressman William Kettner; so, in short, do the overwhelming majority of Democrats who have kept California's democracy decent and reputable.

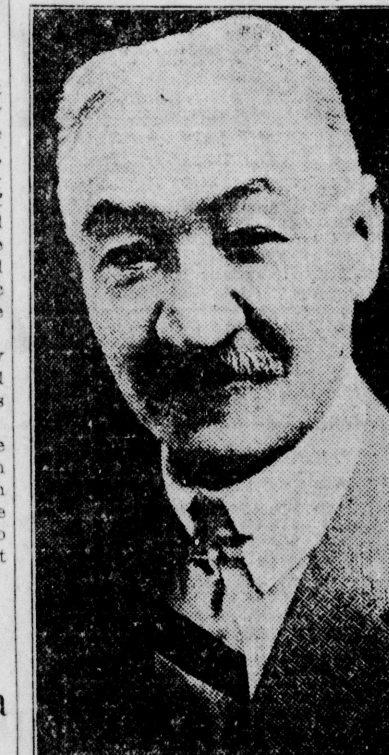

That is answer enough to the Tammany lie.

"Only seldom in politics as they go today do men of Mr. Dockweiler's character and fitness consent to run for office. His record, so well known to all old residents, is unimpeachable. A native of Los Angeles, father of a family of 11 children, he is a distinguished lawyer and civic leader. Active as a Democrat since 15 years of age, candidate for lieutenant governor of California in 1902, member of the U. S. Indian commission for seven years during the Wilson administration, Democratic national committeeman for California for the last 10 years, successful in bringing the Democratic national convention to San Francisco in 1920 and in getting the national committee out of debt in 1924, he is eminently equipped to represent California in the senate.

Long Beach Driver Is Lodged In Jail

Adrian Izuel, 23, said to be the proprietor of the Silver Spray on the Long Beach pier, was arrested yesterday by Officers Stinson and Aldrich and lodged in the county jail. The man was booked on a charge of "reckless driving," but the officers said today that the charge probably would be reduced to speeding 53 miles an hour.

Mrs. Ana M'Veigh Passes In Brea

BREA, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Ana M'Veigh, 58, a resident of Brea for the past nine years, passed away yesterday morning at the home of a son, Dr. W. W. Davis, following a lengthy illness.

The remains are at the Hildenfeld-Rollins parlors. The funeral services will be held from St. Andrew's Lutheran church in Fullerton Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Loma Vista cemetery.

Mrs. M'Veigh was postmistress in Brea in 1919 and 1922. She was married in Brea for several years. She is survived by a daughter, Deborah, of Brea, and two sons, Dr. Davis and F. A. Davis, of Uniontown, Pa.

Points Out Wardell Favored by Phelan

B. E. Tarver, attorney, county Democratic leader, called attention of Democrats today to the fact that James D. Phelan, former United States senator, had endorsed the candidacy of J. S. Wardell for the Democratic nomination.

Phelan wrote: "Justus S. Wardell has been my friend for a great many years, and I have followed his career, first in the legislature, then in journalism, and, more recently, for eight years, in the office of collector of internal revenue for the San Francisco district. The appointee of President Woodrow Wilson. "He has been faithful to every trust and obligation; and, before it was profitable to be a Democrat, he was a loyal Democrat, and, therefore, is entitled to the support of all men of loyal principles who believe in the virtues of fidelity and friendship."

To the Voters of Orange County

Candidates have their inning for several weeks. Tomorrow you have your inning and by your ballots you will determine who you want to serve you in county offices for the next four years.

So far as the campaign of county candidates is concerned, the fight has been clean, and I want to express to my contemporaries my appreciation for the very courteous consideration they have given me.

I want to be county treasurer. My candidacy has not been "forced on me by friends." I am ambitious to serve the people in this capacity, for I would consider it an honor to hold the position.

If you can consistently give me your support, I would appreciate your votes. I believe I am competent to handle the details of the office, and in event of my election I will go into office unpledged to any man, woman or child in the county.

I thank you!

The Justice Court Campaign in a Nutshell

Eventually Morrison

make your vote count

At this stage of the primary election campaign, and even before now, it has become apparent to those who have watched the contest for the office of Justice of the Peace, that Kenneth E. Morrison, the incumbent, cannot be defeated.

It is probable that he will be elected at the primary. That seems nearly certain, although his opponents, by sheer force of their numbers, may stave off his election until November. They cannot do more than that. His ultimate election is an absolute certainty, conceded by anyone who has any perception of political affairs, unless one wilfully disregards the unmistakable signs.

Several of the candidates have admittedly failed to develop strength and none of Morrison's opponents has shown sufficient progress in the campaign to seriously threaten his commanding lead. That, also, is common knowledge. The wise observers now agree that Justice Morrison is "in." The question has not been "who will be elected?" It has been "will Morrison win at the primary or not until the November election?"

To be elected at the primary, he must have a majority of all the votes cast at the election. His vote must be greater than that of his four opponents combined. Yet, so pronounced has been his support and so universal has been the public's endorsement of his record in office, that the only question has been whether he will win at the primary, and right now there seems to be little question about that.

As may have been guessed, there is a purpose to this summary of the situation. These statements are not made as a boast, but are directed to the voting public in all earnestness and sincerity, as an appeal for united support of Justice Morrison at the primary election tomorrow, to the end that this election may be made decisive. Frankly, it is desired to hold before the public the futility of prolonging a campaign that can have but one result. Since the final outcome is unalterable, nothing can be gained for any candidate by dragging out the contest over another period of more than two months, and it will surely be recognized that the best interests of the voters and tax payers of Santa Ana township would be served by settling the future of their justice court now. The immediate friends of Morrison's opponents, who have planned to compliment these candidates with their votes, though realizing their cause to be hopeless, cannot be criticized for that and should not be expected to yield their desire to stand by their friends. That spirit of friendship is altogether admirable. But the general public, the mass of voters who will make their ballots count for the best interests of the public, as they see it, are asked to consider the phase of the situation presented here.

As a man and a public official, Justice Morrison has everything to recommend him to universal support. On the bench, he has shown excellent legal equipment. His knowledge of the law will compare favorably with that of his opponents. Let the public rest assured on that point. It has been proved. It happens that Santa Ana Justice court, because of the tremendous volume of criminal and civil work it encounters, is an especially severe test of executive ability. The candidate who has not thoroughly demonstrated his executive powers, would be out of place as presiding justice of this court. "Out of place" is putting it mildly. He would be the most harassed man in the township, excepting possibly the persons trying to get their business handled in court. At present, Justice Morrison has the justice court running like a well oiled machine. Besides his fine executive and legal training, he has that important thing known as "the will to do right." Moreover, he has the courage to back up his willingness. That popular campaign slogan of all political candidates: "fair and fearless," fits him like a glove. He treats them all alike.

Because Morrison's record is sound, he will be elected. If the voters do their duty, first by coming to the polls and casting their votes, and secondly by voting as their conception of the public good dictates, Morrison will be elected tomorrow. A vote for public good in this case means a vote to settle this contest now and eliminate the justice court from the November political campaign—incidentally to keep the court in competent hands.

MAKE THIS ELECTION DECISIVE. VOTE TOMORROW. VOTE FOR MORRISON.

SUBDIVISION OF THREE ARCHES PALISADES, NEAR LAGUNA BEACH, NOW IS UNDER WAY

Property Comprises One of Most Picturesque Spots In Southland

This is a picture of Three Arches Palisades, about four miles south of Laguna, well known to the persons in this district. This old landmark, together with a mile and one quarter of ocean frontage now is being subdivided by Lewis H. Lasley, and reservations are being taken by salesmen on the property and in the Santa Ana offices, represented by Tricky brothers.

There is approximately 1500 feet of beach and numerous deep bays, suitable for private boat harbors. This property forms one of the most picturesque parts of the Southern California coast and has been enjoyed for many years by campers and beach parties as a place to swim and fish.

Recently the Japanese truck gardener, who has had the property under lease for farming, plowed up two mortars and a pistol, showing that the Indians regarded this as desirable property before civilization was attracted.

There are 127 lots, having ocean frontage, in the tract.

The tide of Public Opinion is changing; for the first time in 20 years, the voters of Orange County have an opportunity of supporting a Life Long Republican for the office of County Assessor. In every precinct, all are clamoring for a change; the time is ripe for such a change.

Support a progressive man for the office of Assessor; the growth of any community depends upon the ideas and ideals of its representative citizens. At this stage of our development we need a man who is optimistic of this

Harry Crooke Guarantees Equal Assessments to AllIT'S TIME TO DRAIN THE CRANK CASE

Everyone who drives a car knows that the life and usefulness of the machine must be protected by frequent changes of the oil, by draining off the old, wornout oil and substituting new, live lubricant. They know that the old oil, while there in bulk, is dead and useless and should be discarded.

There are a lot of folks who are beginning to look at our county government, our county administration, judicial and clerical machine, in much the same light. A lot of voters who are getting to look at the county court house at Santa Ana as the "crank case" of our county governmental machine and to believe that it is time to "drain the crank case." The law of the land wisely provides for just such proceeding by fixing the length of term of office, providing convenient means for the voters to make these changes. If they neglect to "change the oil" and the machine "burns out a bearing," it is the fault of the people themselves for not giving their own affairs timely attention.

The official human nature is the same the world over: People continued indefinitely in public office are likely to become obsessed with the erroneous idea that they are the "government" and when once this idea becomes fixed, you see government of the people by a political ring or machine. In government such as ours, the political boss should be the man out between the rows of citrus trees with the gum boots and the irrigating shovel, the man in the shop, the man behind the counter, the man driving the truck, the man on the street, the woman in the office, in the kitchen, at the sewing machine or out among her flowers. They have the power, but they must insist on sitting at the steering wheel—and it is a good idea to "drain the crank case" occasionally with the facilities provided by the statutes.—Placentia Courier.

SCHOOL CENTER PLAY POPULAR WITH BOYS AND GIRLS OF S. A.

Supervised Recreation Has

Delinquency in Children

WORK CONDUCTED BY LESTER ARCHER

Parent Teacher Head Sees Repetition of Program
With Parental Backing

Among the boys and girls of Santa Ana, playing at the city school centers has furnished "barrels of fun."

There has been an average daily attendance of 300 boys and girls at the six playgrounds conducted this summer for the first time in Santa Ana under the supervision of Lester Archer.

Some of the youngsters prefer croquet to barnyard golf and maybe it's sewing or sloyd work. At the Frances Willard junior high school there is a dramatics club, directed by Mrs. Cecil Fross Willets.

Means For Relief

Mothers have had reason to sigh with relief for the fact that the school centers have provided in keeping youngsters out of mischief. Playgrounds are pointed to as a factor in curbing delinquency by Mrs. Fay Spangle, president of the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher association.

"Our organizations have felt the need of helping the youth with too much spare time," Mrs. Spangle declared today. "In a report from Leroy Warren, probation officer, we see the effect of this summer's supervised playground work in curbing delinquency. Last year, at this time, the school of correction was well attended and today we have only three children there from Santa Ana."

"We are convinced that juvenile delinquency presents a problem separate from adult crime. The offending child should be treated with understanding, as one in need of intelligent supervision."

It is one thing to remedy a situation and another to make them like it. But the children attending the playground schools do not trouble themselves with such problems as child delinquency. They like to play and they don't even philosophize about enjoying life while young.

Some of the special activities held this summer, July and August, were bicycle races, under the auspices of the Cycle Trades of Amer-

Register Will Flash Vote Returns

Following its custom, The Register tomorrow night will flash returns from the statewide primary on a screen stretched across the Third street side of the post-office building.

A comprehensive system of gathering election returns has been installed and a representative of The Register will be located in every election booth in Orange county when the polls close.

The most complete election return service ever given in Orange county will be furnished by The Register. The United Press will have a direct wire into the voting centers of the state and returns on governor, lieutenant governor, senator and the judiciary offices will be transmitted to The Register office.

Returns from Orange county and other parts of the state should begin to filter into The Register office about 7:30 p. m. From then until the issues apparently are settled will the returns be flashed on the screen.

GOODCELL BEST OF FIELD. VIEW OF L. B. LAWYER

Describing Gov. Friend W. Richardson as the "pot" and Lt. Gov. C. C. Young as the "kettle" and maintaining that criticism by one of the other, or by their campaign supporters, was but a case of "the pot calling the kettle black," Mathoniah Thomas, Long Beach attorney, asked his hearers, Saturday evening, at Birch park, to disregard both the governor and the lieutenant governor at the primary election Tuesday and to vote for his friend, Judge Rex B. Goodcell, for the Republican nomination for governor.

"Neither side is fit for consideration," he said, referring to Richardson and Young wings of the Republican party in California. "I have never known a man so condemned by his own party as the present governor of this state. Both gangs are supported by the very influences California thought it was rid of."

Thomas flayed Governor Richardson for "even attempting to hoard up money at the expense of education. By so doing he showed that he is unable to properly administer the wealth of which he is steward," he exclaimed. The present governor he described as being "mentally inefficient to grasp the responsibilities of education."

"What does $60,000 saved on reforestation mean, compared with $6,000,000 lost on forest fires?" he queried.

But Thomas did not keep his guns trained on the present governor all evening. He took in Lieutenant Governor Young in part of his broadside, although most of his remarks concerned Richardson.

Young, he said, was controlled by Hiram Johnson and William Randolph Hearst and his election would pave the way for election of a Democratic presidential delegation in California in 1928.

Thomas also criticized Richardson for relying so strongly upon support in Orange county because of his appointment of "favorite sons." Will the elevation of his henchmen to office in this state be his gauge of success or shall we judge him from his platform of principles, past and future?

Thomas said.

The speaker ridiculed Young's support of the Boulder dam legislation on the ground that not once, up until his decision to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, had he "lifted his little finger in behalf of this great piece of construction."

Goodcell, on the other hand, was painted as an original Boulder dam booster.

He also criticized Governor Richardson for his opposition to the development of the Colorado river legislation, which he said was enough to condemn him in the eyes of the voters.

Richardson also pits his knowledge against all the knowledge of the government engineers over a period of 30 years, and says he is going to the bottom of the matter and make a report, Thomas pointed out. "What sort of wisdom is that?" he exclaimed.

He ended his speech with a plea for the election of Goodcell as the only man in the race who can lead California out of the wilderness of political embroilments and represent all the people all the time.

Owing to a mistake in the schedule, Goodcell did not speak here Saturday night. His headquarters had the hour as 2 o'clock but his publicity man had advertised 8 o'clock. Goodcell was here at 2 o'clock and had to go on to San Diego.

ORANGE COUNTY BALLOT COUNT WILL MARK END OF HOT BATTLE

Officials of 173 Election
Boards Prepare for Task
Of Handling Big Vote

CONTESTS FOR ALL BUT FIVE OFFICES

Assemblyman and Sheriff Races Are Expected to Furnish Closest Fights

Most of the 117 Orange county candidates for office today were making a final sprint for the tape at the finish line of one of the hottest political campaigns in Orange County history.

Scanning their sample ballots, upwards of 25,000 voters were trying to solve the problem of fitting 81 candidates into 39 offices, of which 25 offices are contested, not counting central committee elections.

Meanwhile 1038 election board officials were squaring away to the task of receiving and counting the expected 25,000 votes in the 173 precincts of the county tomorrow.

Winning Out Process
The primary election, weeding out process for candidates, will see contests for every county office except five, for eight out of the 10 offices of justice of the peace, for six out of 11 offices of constable and for all of the three seats on the board of supervisors to be filled this year. Orange county's seat in the state assembly also is being contested. In addition there are several district contests for places on the Republican and Democratic county central committees.

These committees complete the total of 117 candidates at the primary. County, township and district candidates number 81.

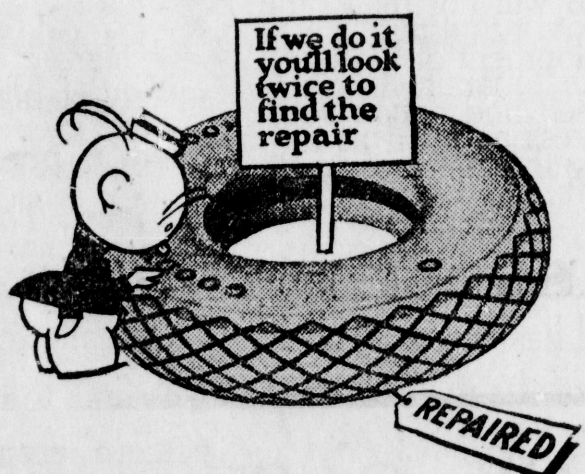

Of the 39 offices, exclusive of central committees, to be voted upon tomorrow, because no one of them has more than two candidates, while some have but one. Eleven others, having more than two candidates each, may or may not be settled tomorrow. Any candidate, to win at the primary, must have a majority of all votes cast in the election. Some of the offices have as many as five candidates.

Multiplicity of candidates, however, has not appeared to regulate the vigor of the various contests. Some of the hardest fights are for offices where only two candidates are in the field. Several of these promise to establish some political history.

County Clerk J. M. Backs, Recorder Justine Whitney, Coroner Charles D. Brown, Tax Collector J. C. Lamb and Superior Judge E. J. Marks, candidate for the short term judgeship, are the five county candidates who have no opposition and already are elected, except for counting the votes. The same situation applies to Chris P. Pann, candidate for justice of the peace in Huntington Beach township, and John Landell, justice of the peace in San Juan township, also to Combes J. L. Elliott and Joseph H. Ryan, of Santa Ana township; W. J. Calles, of San Juan township; G. W. Jubb, candidate for constable of Laguna

Ever hear of a legitimate "FIXER?"

By Citrus Cy, the Goodyear Guy

Fixers, whether in the tire business or in politics, are generally looked at askance. All things considered, it's no wonder.

But in our repair department we've got some fixers of a different breed.

They're trained men. They're capable men. They know tires and tire construction.

Now, these trained men use the same materials, the same machines, the same processes as are used in the great Goodyear factory.

More than once lately a customer has examined his repaired tires and failed to find the spot where the repair was made, so perfectly was it done.

If you should bring these men a tire which is not worth repairing, these men will courteously but firmly REFUSE TO MAKE THE REPAIR.

Despite the excellence and the reliability of our repair work, our charges are moderate, being based accurately on the job itself.

I wish the next time you need a repair you would give our men a chance at it, just to show you there IS such a thing as a legitimate "fixer."

WILD GAME IN U. S. STEADILY GAINING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Wild game in the United States is increasing and by 1960 there will be the abundance of game that was available to the sportsmen of 1860, in the opinion of H. P. Sheldon, chief game warden of the United States.

"The American sportsman is winning his fight to conserve and perpetuate wild game," Sheldon said. "We are well forward in a new advance which will be marked by a constant increase in the numbers of our valuable species of fish, birds and animals."

"Never before have the sportsmen and conservationists been so strongly and effectively organized and never before have the official agencies of conservation found such large sums of money at their disposal for advancing their work."

Sheldon said that game and fish regulations are being religiously observed in every section of the country. Destruction of game that went on a century past has no been solidly checked.

"There still remains, however, pressing need for antiballistics laws, the training and employment of an adequate force of game protectors, provisions for expanding areas for the care and feeding of our increasing game stock, the reduction of vermin, study and control of disease and the troublesome problem of harmonizing the rights of sportsmen who own no shooting or fishing preserve."

All this is in addition to the various duties in other branches of Scottish administration to which he has to attend. Almost every day the house of commons is sitting he is bombarded with questions from inquisitive Scottish members on such widely varied subjects as the reasons for the dismissal of an officer from the police force; how men are employed in the Lochaber water works construction; why the Carnwath parish council is refusing to extend relief to able bodied destitute persons, and similarly highly important questions of state for Scotland has a job on her hands that would seem to go far toward justifying the paragraph's appellate.

ORANGE MOTORISTS HURT IN ACCIDENT

According to word received in Orange county today, Mr. and Mrs. Boaz Atherton and family, of 618 East Culver avenue, Orange, were involved in an automobile accident, yesterday, in Santa Maria.

Mrs. Atherton suffered a broken leg and arm and the other members of the family received numerous cuts and bruises.

A telegram, telling of the accident, was received today by A. G. Porter, an officer in the First National bank, Anaheim, from Miss Cecile Atherton, a daughter, who is employed in the bank. No details of the accident were given.

SCOT MINISTER'S FUNCTIONS VARY

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A sort of political and administrative "pooh bah" is an English newspaper's characterization of the secretary of state for Scotland, Sir John Gilmour.

His duties are of a far more varied character than those of any other minister. He combines the functions of a minister of education in regard to Scottish educational matters, a minister of agriculture in connection with the Scottish farm affairs, and a minister of health so far as Scottish health matters are concerned.

All this is in addition to the various duties in other branches of Scottish administration to which he has to attend. Almost every day the house of commons is sitting he is bombarded with questions from inquisitive Scottish members on such widely varied subjects as the reasons for the dismissal of an officer from the police force; how men are employed in the Lochaber water works construction; why the Carnwath parish council is refusing to extend relief to able bodied destitute persons, and similarly highly important questions of state for Scotland has a job on her hands that would seem to go far toward justifying the paragraph's appellate.

The speaker ridiculed Young's support of the Boulder dam legislation on the ground that not once, up until his decision to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, had he "lifted his little finger in behalf of this great piece of construction."

Goodcell, on the other hand, was painted as an original Boulder dam booster.

He also criticized Governor Richardson for his opposition to the development of the Colorado river legislation, which he said was enough to condemn him in the eyes of the voters.

Richardson also pits his knowledge against all the knowledge of the government engineers over a period of 30 years, and says he is going to the bottom of the matter and make a report, Thomas pointed out. "What sort of wisdom is that?" he exclaimed.

He ended his speech with a plea for the election of Goodcell as the only man in the race who can lead California out of the wilderness of political embroilments and represent all the people all the time.

Owing to a mistake in the schedule, Goodcell did not speak here Saturday night. His headquarters had the hour as 2 o'clock but his publicity man had advertised 8 o'clock. Goodcell was here at 2 o'clock and had to go on to San Diego.

Friday, September 10, has all the earmarks of being one of the biggest days at the Orange County fair, which begins Monday, September 6.

On that day, all the children of the county, if accompanied by their parents, will be admitted to the fair free. The grounds are located on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim, near the county hospital.

The Long Beach band will be one of the feature attractions Friday. The band is considered one of the best in the United States. Arrangements for its participation in the program have been completed by A. L. Olgier, former secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, now secretary of the department of commerce of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Rabbit breeders of the Southland also will be especially honored Friday. A fur fashion parade is scheduled for the afternoon.

HOUSATONIC RIVER TO HAVE SIXTH DAM

NEW MILFORD, Conn., Aug. 30.
—The much-dammed Housatonic river is to have still another barrier checking the flow to Long Island sound.

New England's second river already has five hydro-electric developments, all within the state of Connecticut, and all but one owned by the Connecticut Light and Power company.

That company is about to start a dam here where Rocky river enters the Housatonic and erect a powerhouse to furnish a capacity of 20-00 kilowatts.

The dam is to have a storage capacity of nearly eight million cubic feet and an area of 10 square miles and is to be done in the summer of 1928. The power is to be distributed through central Connecticut.

YOST THEATER

Of course it was a bit out of the ordinary for a man to ask for the return of a gift made to an attractive young woman. But Garry, possessed of a jealous wife and an imagination, couldn't see any other way out of it. It would have gone on very nice had Mabel seen things in the same light. But she didn't.
She decided to retain the gift.
Garry decided that he must have it by "hook or crook." He tries both methods.

There are the chief ingredients of the Wilson Collison-Otto Harbach farce comedy hit "Up in Ma-bel's Room" that is being presented by the Connell Players at the Yost Theater.

No effort has been spared to make the presentation of the famous comedy one of the best that has been seen here this season.

AT THE THEATERS

Buster Keaton and Sally O'Neil in a scene from "Battling Butler," comedy now showing at the West Coast-Walker theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

In "The High Steppers," which had its first local showing at the Yost Broadway theater last night,
Edwin Carewe presents the movie version of one of the most popular of the Sir Philip Gibbs novels. It is a release featuring Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes.

The story is a moving one. It moves—others and itself. The theme is the high-stepping bug which has been biting modern smart-set families. As worked out in the film, the representative family used for an example is driven almost to the verge of destruction until the strength of mind of two of the younger people avert the disaster.

Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes give a performance which is admirable in every sense of the term.
Another gifted actress, although a virtual newcomer to the screen, is Dolores del Rio, Castilian beauty.
Others in the cast are likewise capable. They include Rita Carewe, Edward Davis, Alec Francis, John Stepping and Clarissa Selwynne.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Buster Keaton has taken his frozen-face into the prize ring. At least, he masquerades as a pugilist, gets himself involved in a peck of trouble and finally has to fight the world's champion. And what a fight it is!

The famous comedian's hilarious venture into the realm of fistiana forms the basis of the plot of "Battling Butler," Keaton's latest picture, now showing at the West Coast-Walker. Heralded as Buster's crowning achievement in laugh provoking, "Battling Butler" is living up to its promise by convulsing audiences at every performance.

"Battling Butler" is different; it has an absorbing plot and is invested with elaborate setting that would do credit to the biggest dramatic productions. The supporting cast, including captivating Sally O'Neil, Snitz Edwards, Tom Wilson,
Francis McDonald, Mary O'Brien, Eddie Borden and Buddy Fine is excellent.

The comedy gives Buster the opportunity to again show his versatility. He portrays a rich young id-ler who falls in love and then has to pose as a prize-fighter in order to win the girl, whose family believes him to be a weakling because of his fine clothes, valet and luxurious surroundings. The comedian takes the name of "Battling Butler," but when the real "Battler" appears on the scene, Buster finds himself hopelessly tangled in the web of deception. How he finally triumphs and wins the champion in a vicious battle that makes the right in the original "Spoilers" look like a petting party, provides a sensational climax in which thrills vie with mirthful moments.

The Sealy mattress.

What Sealy Means to YOU

The Sealy label on a mattress is a guarantee that the manufacturers have made the mattress as good as a mattress can be made.

Every Sealy label is a message of truth. No Sealy label has ever misrepresented the quality of the mattress to which it is attached. The label does not make the mattress a better mattress, but it is a pact in which you can safely place your confidence.

You can see, feel and examine the mattress only from the outside. The service value is mostly inside. The quality of filling-material used in each Sealy is printed in boldface type on the label. The Sealy Co. inaugurated the practice years before the first sanitary mattress laws were enacted. You will find the price bears out this to achieve economy for purchasers by supplying them with goods of lasting quality.

You'll be pleased, too, with the many handsome tick patterns. Why not start Sealy sleep comfort now?

High Tax Causes Deaths of Dogs

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Hundreds of Berliners, unable to pay high dog taxes, are officiating at the asphyxiation of their pets and crating the bodies in caskets of every description for private burial.

The train of canine funerals from the dog pound started after officials indicated that the road from the pound to dissecting laboratory was short and swiftly traveled.

Dogs are being executed at the rate of 800 a week.

WHAT IS THE METROPOLITAN WATER BILL?

The Metropolitan Water Bill is not "The Very Important Colorado River Development Bill. IT IS NOT AN IRRIGATION PLAN. IT IS A DOMESTIC WATER PROPOSITION FOR CITIES ONLY; PROPOSED TO form a large district composed of a number of cities above four.

POWERS: Section 5, "TAKE BY GRANT, PURCHASE, bequest, devise or lease, any and all real and personal property of any kind within or without the district. TO HAVE THE POWER OF EMINENT DOMAIN; to issue Bonds, to lay and collect tax."

Mr. Bailey, engineer in charge of survey in Los Angeles City says, "It will cost not less than $150,000,000 to bring the water from the Colorado River to Los Angeles." The line will be 50 miles from Orange county, and the bonded indebtedness of this district will be not less than $200,000,000. MR. FARMER, MR. IRRIGATOR AND MR. TAX PAYER, THINK CAREFULLY OVER THESE FACTS.

REPRESENTATION: The original bill, Section 6, provided, "Each municipality shall be entitled to appoint one representative or member on said Board of Directors for each 15,000 population of each municipality, exclusive of fractional parts thereof."

Orange County rightfully protested strenuously against such a representation when such enormous expenditures and bond issues confront them. The bill, as amended and which came up for final vote provides representation, as follows: Quoting from Section 6, the amended bill, "The Board of directors herein referred to which consists of one representative from each municipality; EACH REPRESENTATIVE SHALL BE ENTITLED TO CAST ONE VOTE FOR EACH $10,000,000 or major fractional part thereof of the assessed valuation of property taxable for district purposes in the city represented by him.

Estimating from the assessed valuation of the incorporated cities of Orange County, each one of which, under the law, would have one vote, and Santa Ana, two votes, provided that all joined in the district would give Orange County 10 votes. Los Angeles, having more than $1,780,000,000 valuation, will be entitled to 178 votes alone, but no municipality will be allowed more than 50 per cent of the total votes. The combined assessed valuation of the cities of Los Angeles would allow 58 votes at least, to which you add 10 of the Orange County, making 68 votes. This will entitle Los Angeles also to 68 votes. In Los Angeles County alone they will be entitled to 126 votes and Orange County 10 votes as a maximum.

HOW MUCH BETTER REPRESENTATION HAVE YOU THAN YOU HAD UNDER THE ORIGINAL BILL? THINK IT OVER MR. TAXPAYER.

I am pledged to support all measures looking to the development of the water in and for Orange county. I WILL CERTAINLY SUPPORT A BILL OF THE NATURE OF THE METROPOLITAN WATER BILL, when Orange County is satisfied it has a fair and just representation so that we shall not be placing ourselves for 40 years under domination of such a powerful and wealthy county.

Beach township, and Constable W. D. Tremaine, of Brea township.

Warm Contest Expected

Two-men contests, which will be definitely decided tomorrow, involve 17 offices. Heading the list is the spirited battle between Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft, of Fullerton, and Dr. C. D. Ball, of Santa Ana, former assemblyman. Dr. Ball is seeking to reverse the decision Hartranft gained over him two years ago and is making a fight on various state issues, including the administration's attitude toward the Swing-Johnson bill. Hartranft is an administration legislator.

Another warmly waged contest is that of Sheriff Sam Jernigan and former sheriff C. E. Jackson for that office. The sheriff's fight has been attracting attention all over the county, with both sides claiming victory in advance.

Other two-men contests are between James Sleeper, incumbent, and Harry H. Crooke, of Fullerton, for county assessor; W. C. Jerome, incumbent, and G. S. Richardson, of Santa Ana, for county auditor; Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley and Santa Ana City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. for district attorney; R. P. Mitchell, incumbent, and A. E. Crawford, of Fullerton, for county superintendent of schools; Warren K. Hillyard, incumbent, and George L. Bates, of Orange, for county surveyor.

One of the three supervisory contests, that in the fourth district, is certain to be settled at the primary. Supervisor Willard Smith and C. D. Lester, Orange city clerk, fighting it out.

Two In Race

In Laguna Beach township, Justice L. V. Murphy and C. C. Cravath, prominent realtor and once renowned baseball star, will decide "who's who." Justice Andrew H. Wilson and W. A. Leonard are the two candidates in Newport Beach township. At Seal Beach, Justice G. H. Morrison is opposed only by B. B. Brown. Justice Charles Kuchel and E. O. Mathis, Anaheim attorney, are the justice of the peace candidates in Anaheim township. Justice Henry E. Hart, of La Habra, and C. C. Kinsler, of Brea, are the candidates in Brea township. H. E. Inskeep and Halsey B. Spence form the two-man contest in Fullerton township.

Frank Vaughn, state traffic officer, now in the hospital as a result of an accident, is a candidate for constable of Newport Beach township against David L. Adams. G. S. Bergey and D. T. Halley are the two candidates in Huntington Beach township. Julius A. Hammer Jr. and H. M. Wilson both want to be constable of Seal Beach township.

All other officers have more than two candidates and, therefore may not be settled tomorrow.

One of the most watched contests is that for the office of justice of the peace of Santa Ana township, where the incumbent, Kenneth E. Morrison, has four opponents, Morris Cain, Frank Pinkerton, J. C. Metzgar and Clinton Innes.

Beach Fight Interesting

Much attention is being given in the county to the campaign for the two long terms on the superior court bench. Judge H. G. Ames, District Attorney A. P. Nelson, former Judge W. H. Thomas and James L. Allen, Santa Ana attorney, are contesting for the two places. Each camp is bubbling with confidence.

The second and fifth supervisory districts both furnish their quota of excitement, the second district having four candidates for supervisor, while the fifth has produced five. In the second, the seat vacated by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board, is sought by R. L. Obarr and W. L. McKenney, of Huntington Beach, John C. Mitchell, of Garden Grove, and Sterling Price, of Polsa. In the fifth district, Supervisor George Jeffrey is campaigning against former Supervisor H. A. Wassum, of Tustin, S. W. Stanley, of Tustin, James Warner, of Tustin, and Abe Johnson, of Laguna Beach.

The contest between County Treasurer J. C. Joplin, Horace Fine, Santa Ana newspaperman, and James Livezey, of Santa Ana, for Joplin's office, is the only three-cornered campaign for a county office. It has been as vigorous a campaign as any.

Three-Sided Affair

Orange township has a three-sided affair, with Justice G. W. Ingle opposed for re-election by W. T. Pogle and B. E. Garrison. In that township there are four candidates for constable, including Ray Wallace, former superior court bailiff, City Marshal M. E. Jemison, Deputy Constable George M. Bartley, of El Modena, and E. E. Kirkwood.

Three candidates are striving for the office of constable in Anaheim township. Constable E. D. Martin being opposed by L. F. Heffner, former state traffic officer, and Roy Choate.

The office of constable in Fullerton township is wanted by four candidates, A. E. Fells, former city marshal, William A. Goodwin, W. F. Metcalf and George Annin.

Only two contests have developed for places on the central committees, both being Republican. In the second district there are four candidates for three places, the four being G. F. McKelvey, L. W. Blodgett, W. M. Morrill and R. D. Richards. In the fifth district there are four candidates for three places, the four being Fred W. Conkey, M. B. Wellington, Harry H. Williams and John Osterman.

Candidates for the seven places in the first district are P. G. Beisel, S. M. Reinhaus, Charles D. Swanner, R. A. Cushman, Stanley E. Goode, G. K. Scovel and John C. Wallace. In the third district the candidates are H. B. Irwin, Sam L. Collins, Frank Tausch, W. E. Alexander and E. C. Dutton. The fourth district candidates are C. F. Newton, J. F. Allen, W. Feldner and J. D. Thomas.

Democratic candidates are as follows:

First district—George Edgar, B. E. Tarver, H. C. Head and C. D. Overshiner. Second district—D. W. Huston, C. C. Violett, W. H. Bentley. Third district—Bruce Moore, J. H. Tennant. Fifth district—James S. Rice, Sam W. Nau, Morris F. Enderle.

No candidates were filed in the fourth district. Only two were filed for eight places in the third district and four for the five places in the first district.

ica; indoor ball games, with Lincoln school team, the champion; tennis tournaments and sewing and manual training.

1500 In Attendance

It is estimated that in all 1500 children attended the school playgrounds.

From the success of this year, Mrs. Spangler is confident that playgrounds will be conducted again next year.

"I feel that the parents, so fortunate as to have their children taken care of at the playgrounds, supervised by Mr. Archer and his assistants, will be most enthusiastic in supporting us when it comes to advocating that these playgrounds be repeated yearly," Mrs. Spangler remarked.

"Many dollars and even lives have been saved by keeping the children off the streets."

Mrs. Spangler expressed her thanks for the "splendid co-operation" extended to the Parent-Teacher association by the Santa Ana city council and the board of education in insuring the success of the playground program.

SERVING HIS SENTENCE

D. Wasser, 22, sentenced to serve five days in the county jail on a charge of speeding 57 miles an hour, entered the jail last night to serve his sentence.

More Proof

Who can gainsay proven facts? One or a dozen men may be mistaken or even lucky.

But when scores—hundreds, thousands and tens of thousands of men and women in all walks of life say the same thing—THAT is facts and positive proof.

The New Chevrolet has proven itself beyond any shadow of a doubt to be the one outstanding TROUBLE PROOF AUTOMOBILE of the Twentieth Century.

This, coupled with good looks, easy riding, easy handling, heretofore unheard of running and repair costs, high resale value, completes your requirements for extraordinary high value at low cost.

Here's the Positive Proof

Santa Ana, Calif.
August 18, 1926.

B. J. MacMullen Co.,
City.

Dear Sir:

On January 25, 1926, I purchased from you a Chevrolet Roadster and on July 29th last, I had driven same 21,293 miles. I then traded this to you for a Chevrolet Landau and figured my depreciation and expense.

My cost per mile for depreciation and gas on this Roadster was .0203 cents (slight fraction over two cents) per mile. I had only two punctures during this time, no mechanical trouble and no expense except grinding valves, cleaning carbon and battery repair.

Respectfully,

LEROY CORLISS

316 Stanford Street
Santa Ana, Calif.

SIGNED:

MORE PROOF

* "On July 21, 1925, I purchased from you a new 1925 Chevrolet Coupe, and have driven it nearly 10,000 miles to date, and have not spent one cent in mechanical repairs or maintenance during the entire period of one year.

"The only operating expense I have had, outside of gasoline and oil, has been one valve grinding job." ****

MORE PROOF

* "I bought a 1925 Roadster (New) from you August 10th, 1925, and have driven the car more than ten thousand miles (10,000) with a repair and parts expense of exactly $1.00 for the entire period." ****

MORE PROOF

* "I purchased a 1925 Chevrolet New Type Sedan in August, 1925, and have driven this car to date in excess of 21,000 miles, with a mechanical repair expense of less than $2." ****

MORE PROOF

* "I have had such wonderful results from the Chevrolet Touring Car I purchased from you March 14, 1925, that I feel sure you would be glad to know that up to date I have spent for repairs and maintenance only $5.90, which was for a valve grinding job, May 18, 1926." ****

MORE PROOF

* "It is very gratifying to me to know that I have a car that to date I have driven over seven thousand miles, and have not spent one cent in mechanical repairs.

"I have been averaging over 29 miles to the gallon of gasoline and feel that I could run more than 500 miles to the quart of oil, if I care to do so." ****

MORE PROOF

* "Am writing you to express my appreciation of the performance of my Chevrolet. I believe I have the distinction of purchasing the first car sold through your agency after you took it over in May, 1925.

"My speedometer reads 12,572, and repair bills have been 'nil.' Still have all my original tires and they look good for 10,000 miles more. I use a good grade of Eastern medium oil, which I change every 1000 miles and rarely ever have to add any. My gasoline mileage runs around 22 to 23 miles per gallon on short drives and frequent stops. On long drives I get 25 miles and better per gallon." ****

MORE PROOF

* "My Chevrolet Coach, which has been in use continually with a total expense for repairs and parts at a cost of ten cents (10c) for the entire period of one year." ****

All of the above original letters, with many more, are on file at our office and are open for your inspection.

Now the thing for you to do is—come in—look this car over—take a ride (without obligation), then ask any owner. He knows and will give you further proof. Convincing proof of comfort, economy and value.

BODY AIMS AT COAST ROADS DEVELOPMENT

Aiming at a coast development plan, which will include all counties from San Diego to Santa Barbara, the South Coast association, for many years a booster organization for the Orange county coastline, yesterday blossomed into a larger organization, with the development and advertisement of coast highways as its main aim, and elected Henry Burmaster, former secretary of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, president.

J. P. Greeley, of Balboa, was elected vice president and Norman Robotham, of Laguna Beach, secretary.

Although the organization has grown out of the South Coast association, it does not mean that the South Coast organization will cease to function, according to J. A. Armitage, president and organizer of the South Coast association. The newly-formed group will have as its aim the advertisement and betterment of highways along the coast from the southern border of California to Santa Barbara and representatives from every section will attend the meetings. The South Coast association will continue to function in Orange county and will co-operate to the fullest extent with the new organization.

The work of the South Coast association, in securing for Orange county the coast highway from Seal Beach to Serra, was hailed as a great achievement at the meeting yesterday, and representatives of other coast towns who had been invited to the meeting, were fired with enthusiasm over the plan to include the entire coastline in a similar work.

Another meeting is to be called in the near future to complete organization of the new body and it also is expected that a meeting of the South Coast association will be called in the near future to transact business of interest to the Orange county coastline.

Paper Magnate Is Generous In Will

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Disposing of an estate valued at $5,000,000, the will of the late William Pierce Johnson, president of the Crown-Willamette Paper company, who died last week in Paris, was filed for probate here.

Two sons-in-law, George S. Towne and M. C. Milton, both of Oakland, received bequests of $125,000 each. After bequests to servants, and $25,000 to Edna Pierce, 20 years his secretary, one-third of Johnson's community property interests is left to his widow, Florence Johnson, San Francisco.

LINEBERGER ATTACKS BOTH SHORTRIDGE AND CLARKE IN FINAL S. A. CAMPAIGN TALK

Enforcement of the 18th amendment held the center of the stage in a political campaign meeting Saturday night at the West End theater, at which Congressman Walter F. Lineberger, of Long Beach, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, was the principal speaker. George R. Whitcomb, an Orange rancher, was in charge of the meeting, and Dr. James Workman, of this city, introduced the speaker.

While the candidate stressed his unqualified support of the national dry law, devoting the greater portion of the address to this subject, he also declared himself in favor of the Colorado river Boulder dam project, as outlined in the Swing-Johnson bill; for the creation of a national department of education, whose head would be a member of the president's cabinet; and, for the revision of existing immigration laws which would make more favorable quotas to those nations in northern Europe, which furnished the settlers and pioneers that made America. He also voiced his determined opposition to America's entry into the World court, which he denounced as an appendage of the League of Nations.

In the course of his speech, he attacked his opponents, Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and Judge Robert M. Clarke.

Discusses Liquor Question
Dwelling at length on the prohibition issue, he assailed the attitude of his two opponents, whom he charged with moral cowardice in their failure to touch upon what he termed one of the most vital problems facing the nation today. He said:

"Now as to law enforcement, we can't pick and choose which laws we shall obey. Our government is founded on the constitution involving mutual upholding of the law. Your duty as a good citizen, is to obey all laws. You have no more right to flout the 18th amendment than you have to pick a pocket."

"If we have voters, yes voters, of easy conscience, who put into office men of easy conscience, who in turn appoint law enforcement officers who have no conscience at all, how can you expect the 18th amendment to be obeyed or the criminals to stand in awe of the law?"

"When you vote for a U. S. senator, do you fully understand that the patronage that senator controls will determine to a large extent whether honest and courageous law enforcement will be maintained or whether it will rest on political expediency?" he asked. He said Shortridge has misused his patronage.

Stands for Enforcement
In this connection, he pledged the electorate that, if elected, he would go to the president for a proposal for effective enforcement, and would not propose for public office anyone who did not believe in it. If, perchance, he were deceived, he would move at once for the impeachment of the offending officer.

"But, thank God, there are too many good Christian women and patriotic men in this country to allow us to remove the 18th amendment," he said.

Referring to the support given the Shortridge candidacy by Harry Chandler and the Los Angeles Times, he thought it strange that the publisher of the Times should spend thousands of dollars in conducting oratorical contests on the constitution, yet fail to raise his voice in protest when that law was trampled upon by unscrupulous politicians.

While Shortridge's alleged leanings toward a liberal interpretation of the Volstead law was made the main target of Lineberger's broadsides, a few stray shots found their mark in the Clarke camp.

Mentions Mexican Club
Someone in the audience asked the speaker what he thought of Judge Clarke as a "dry" and what he knew of the latter's connection with the Shoreacres Country club, a proposed pleasure resort, to be located south of the international border, in Old Mexico.

Reading from a prospectus, Lineberger said that Judge Clarke is one of the directors and serves on the invitation committee. Pointing to some of the attractions outlined in the literature, the Long Beach man thought it inconsistent for a man to pledge support of the Volstead act as a candidate for a high office and at the same time lend his name and social prominence to an undertaking like the Shoreacres Country club.

In support of his stand on the Colorado river project legislation, he quoted a letter written by Congressman Phil D. Swing, showing that he (Lineberger) has been a true friend of the undertaking in every way and has always done everything he could to be helpful.

Turning to the subject of public education, Major Lineberger thought that the only hope of perpetuating the republic and its institutions is an intelligent citizenship, composed of voters sufficiently educated to form an opinion on public questions as they are presented in political campaigns. Such a citizenship, he explained, cannot be built up unless adequate educational facilities are provided by the government. In this connection, he added that he would favor legislation creating a department of education, the head of which would be a member of the president's cabinet.

Attacks Shortridge Further
In discussing the immigration question, Major Lineberger again turned his guns on Senator Shortridge's voting record. While the speaker had favored the 1890 census as a basis for immigration quotas, which would have favored those nations in north and west Europe which furnished the early settlers in this country, the junior senator

Roadside Farmers Do Big Business

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Roadside farmers' sell 25 million dollars' worth of farm produce annually to passing motorists throughout the rural districts of the country, the American Road Builders association announced Wednesday after an extended survey.

Good roads have become a tremendous factor in bringing the producer and the consumer into direct contact, the association said.

The monthly business of "roadside farmers" was estimated at $2,116,000.

SENATOR

Calvin Coolidge

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge

HIS RECORD A GUARANTEE

Senator Shortridge's ability and loyalty have brought his state new prestige in national affairs.

He is a member of the powerful Senate Finance Committee handling tariff rates and income taxes. His influence has been thrown into the balance again and again successfully to protect California products. Membership on that Committee is impossible to a newcomer.

SHORTRIDGE IS MEMBER OF SENATE COMMITTEE

On Reclamation and Irrigation, which passes on Irrigation and Reclamation Projects, their construction and financing.

COLORADO BOULDER DAM FACTS

The Committee on Reclamation and Irrigation on December 17, 1924, commenced its hearings on the Boulder Canyon Dam and All-American Canal Project, as "proposed by Senator Shortridge, a member of the committee" (Official Record Dec. 17, 1924, and Oct. 26, 1925) and has approved the bill providing for the project. Senator Shortridge voted for the bill.

A TELEGRAM FROM SENATOR McNARY

"It is a pleasure to advise you that Senator Samuel M. Shortridge requested hearings of the Boulder Canyon Dam project before the Senate Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation.

"And that as a member of the Committee, has taken a stout interest in the development of this worthy project.

(Signed)

"CHARLES L. McNARY,

"Chairman of the Committee, United States Senator from Oregon."

Shortridge has kept faith with the voters who sent him to Washington. Ask the War Veterans, the citrus men, the almond men, the walnut growers. He has safeguarded the interests of the working man, as well as the industrialist. He has secured special appropriations for new buildings, port development, highways, bridges, agricultural experiment stations. He has been vigilant; he has been efficient; he has been loyal. His record is a guarantee.

"Senator Shortridge stands on the national Republican platform and votes as a Republican should vote.

"He is in harmony with the administration of President Coolidge and the working majority in the Senate.

"Senator Shortridge is the only senator from California who has audience with the regular Republicans and the president.

"All federal appointments from California come through Senator Shortridge, so far as senatorial courtesy is concerned.

"Orange county wants the Boulder Dam, all-American canal and more. It wants Orange County Harbor support, some Federal buildings, forest protection, reforestation, tariff protection, and a gentleman and scholar who can tell the world about California. Senator Shortridge qualifies the best for all these demands.

"The only way to get things for California is through a Republican senator in HARMONY WITH THE ADMINISTRATION, which will be Republican during the next six years sure.

Senator Samuel Shortridge is in full accord with President Coolidge and is a full-fledged Republican.

TRADE FOR THIS GROVE

It is clear, the owner lives in L. A. and as other interests keep him from looking after it, he will consider trading for some kind of property that does not require the close personal attention that an orange grove does.
10 acres, half full-bearing, half 1-yr. Valencia oranges. Rich soil, good water, planted clean trees, close to packing house, wonderful wind-break, and all for $18,000.
We are sure you will want to trade for this when you see it as the circumstances above stated are legitimate and make a deal possible.

Interesting News of the Day Told In Pictures

Mrs. Frederick Cameron Church, formerly Muriel Vanderbilt, is a cowgirl now—at least, she wears the clothes. The picture was taken while she and her husband were honeymooning at Del Monte lodge.

How many million dollars he represents vacationing at Dinard, Brittany, only Andrew W. Mellon knows. And the U. S. treasury secretary told only that his European visit didn't concern war debts.

This is Pilot Art Starbuck of the new contract air mail route between Seattle and Los Angeles, that will be in operation as soon as 12 giant electric beacons are installed. Lower right is Verne C. Gorst, president of Pacific Aircraft Transportation, which has the contract. Upper left is one of the Ryan M-1 planes that will be used.

Pretty La Rene Whitman, here shown in the San Francisco city jail, seems almost ready to sing "The Prisoner's Song." She was apprehended on a charge of passing counterfeit bills. "I wanted pretty clothes," she explained to police.

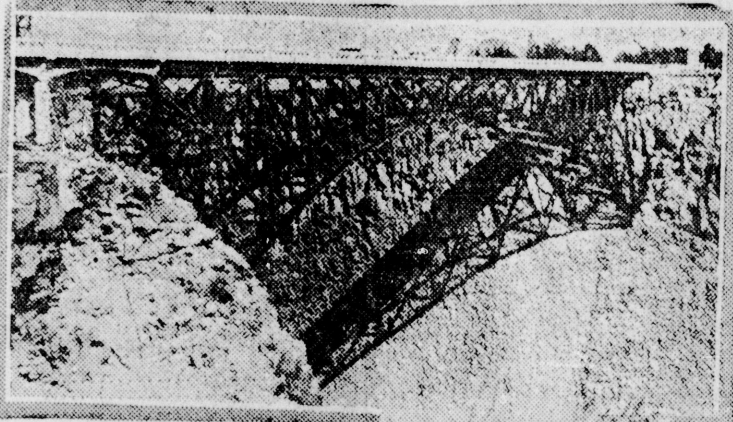

For more than two years, Iris Stuart posed as a magazine cover girl. Then she attracted the notice of movie people, and now she has signed a two-year contract.

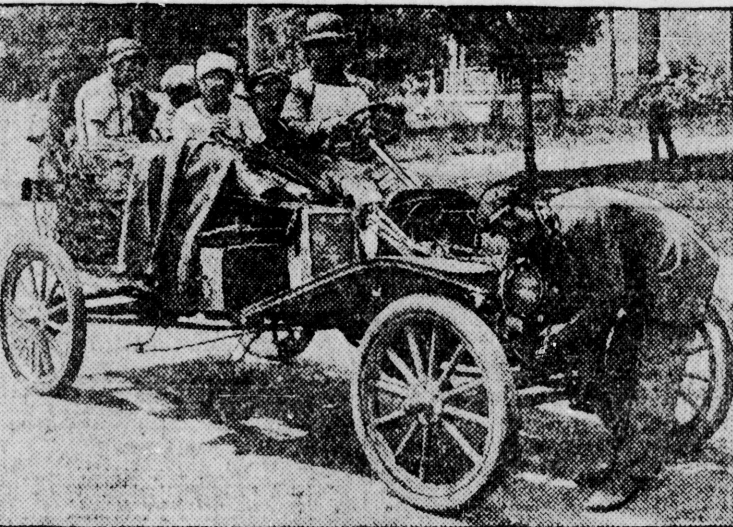

San Francisco nominates Johnny Boyle, 11, as the champion freckle-faced boy of the country. Even Johnny himself doesn't know how many he has. It would take too long to count.

Policeman Joe Burke, who patrols a bathing beach on the outskirts of Pensacola, Fla., has a cat that goes fishing. Burke tosses a bit of bread in the water; a fish sneaks up to eat it—and in dives pussy to catch the fish. The cat, which is named Jimmy, is shown here with Burke and a fish that Jimmy has just caught.

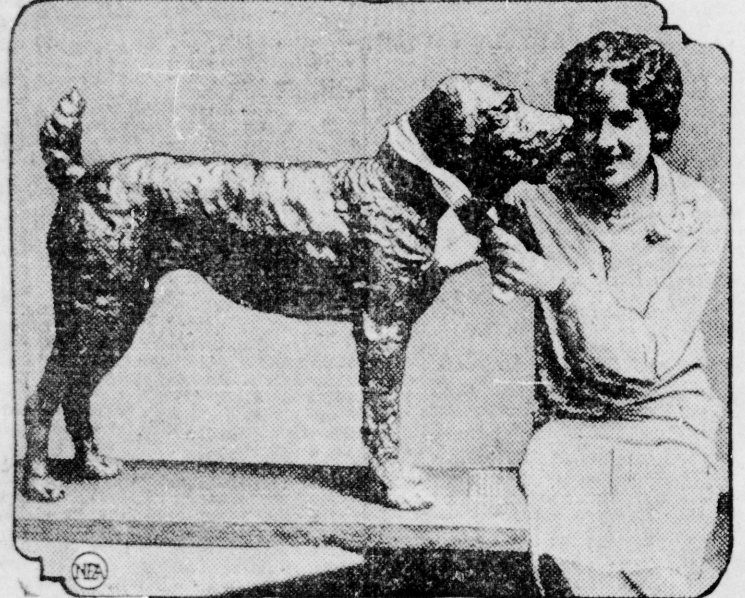

This steel highway bridge on the Dallas-California route, replaces a dangerous road winding through the deep canyon it spans. The bridge is the highest of its type in the United States and one of the highest highway bridges in the world. The span is 300 feet above the roaring mountain stream below.

There aren't any frills on this family caravan, but it covers the ground and everybody's happy—and what more can you ask? The picture shows how Fred Moore and his family are motoring from Lawrenceburg, Tenn., to Toledo, O. A bed spring, which comes in handy at night, forms part of the side of the car.

Here is Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, as a real farmer, clothes and all. He wore this rig when he showed members of the Illinois Banking association over his big farm near Oregon, Ill.

This statue of "Laddie Boy," President Harding's favorite pet, has been cast in the bronze of 1934 pennies donated by newsboys of the country. It will be placed in the Smithsonian institution, Washington. Photo shows Miss Margaret Campbell, Boston, tying on a red, white and blue ribbon.

Solomon Brafman, above, a Russian hatmaker from New York's East Side has confessed, police say, a series of jewel robberies totaling $240,000 loot. George Cohen, caught with him, denies any connection. Police say, however, that he knows all about the murder of Assistant District Attorney McGwinn in Chicago.

The Garland freighter Norlina has been abandoned on the rocks 100 miles north of San Francisco, after jamming into the shore during dense fog.

Machine guns are to be used by highway police of Cook county, Illinois, to keep rural roads safe. This picture shows Sgt. George Ulrich and Chief L. R. Davidson examining the new weapons.

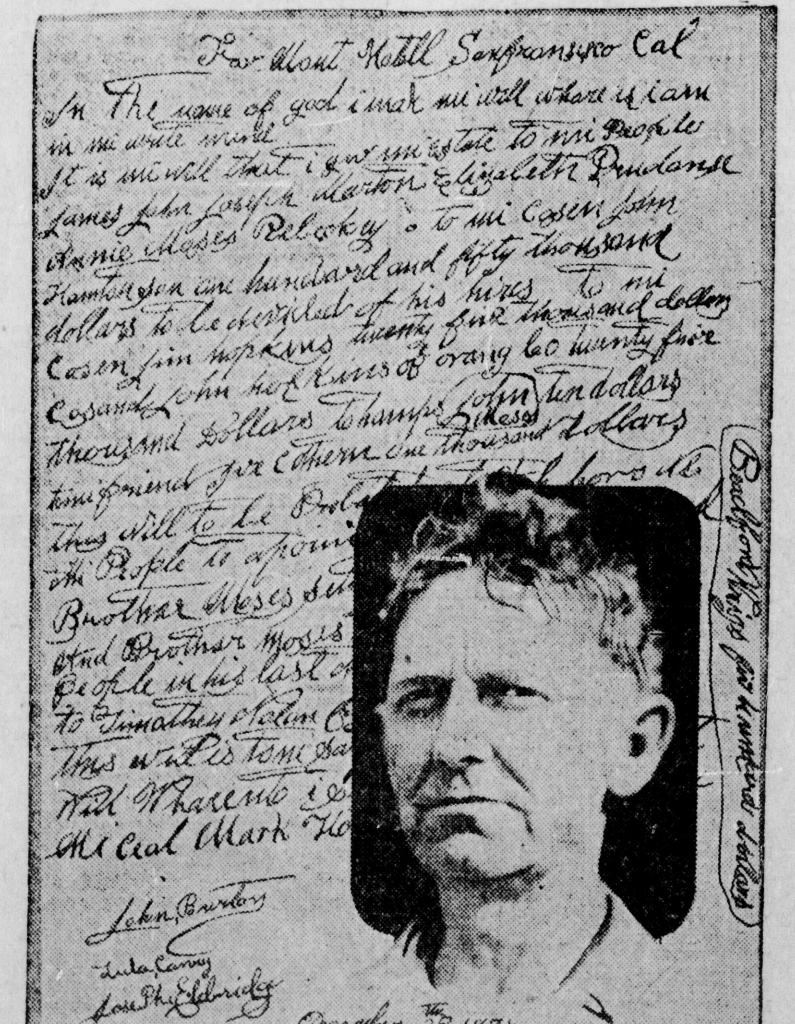

Just four youngsters in a tub, you say? Yes, but it's an Astor. Taken from the John Jacob Astor mansion in New York, where the "400" used to gather—now being demolished so a skyscraper can rise.

Although this is the first time that Utah has had an entry in the Atlantic City beauty contest, people of the state believe that Miss Doretta Carstensen of Salt Lake City, winner of the contest at Salt air, will get her share of the honors.

Girls at Long Beach craved action, so they organized bicycle polo teams and played on the beach. Here is a hot moment in the game, with the Silver Spray team bursting through the goal of the Sea Nymphs.

The alleged will of the late Mark Hopkins, millionaire railroad builder, will come up for probate in San Francisco August 30, after having been found in a North Carolina house and filed by P. B. McCandless, San Jose shingler, and claimant to the estate, now worth $300,000,000, but distributed in 1880 to other heirs when no will was found. The will bears a date in 1874. McCandless is shown in the lower right.

GERMAN BREAKS EDERLE'S CHANNEL TIME

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

With all the controversies with athletes who made side money by selling sporting goods, by writing high-powered articles, by padding expense accounts or by otherwise violating the ethics of the code, "Sports for Sport's Sake," the constitution of the United States Lawn Tennis association has been placed on the operating table at every meeting in recent years.

The officials were labored and worried lunch-baked when they emerged from a fight with Bill Tilden that almost caused an inner revolution and an outlaw association. It wasn't a tremendous victory that the association scored over Tilden but the association seemed happy to get out of it with a head standing reasonably high and Tilden, of course, was satisfied with a decision that permitted him to go right ahead making fancy money in literature and losing it in dramatics so long as he wasn't branded officially as the "world's tennis champion."

Peace or at least a truce on both sides seemed to be the reward of the association until C. C. Pyle, manager of "Red" Grange, who turned a coal and ice reputation into a fortune, dashed to the cable offices in Paris and announced that Mile. Lengien had turned professional and would troupe the States with him.

'Tis So, Says Suzanne

Immediate fears were laughed off with a consolation born of hope that Mile. Lengien would not give the same answer that Joe Jackson gave when the kids said—"Tell us it ain't so, Joe."

But, in like manner, she said—"It is so, I've worked long enough for myself."

And then there popped up the problem—"What can be done about it? Supposing our boys and girls decide to get out and work for themselves."

This was followed by the happy thought that Lengien couldn't play by herself, that there were no women professionals in the United States and that the amateurs could not play against her.

There was a scamper to the rule books when the question was advanced—"Dih not?"

When the association told Tilden that he couldn't win any prize for a salary larger than a lot of editors were getting, Tilden asked "Why not?" The association found that there was no rule covering the point and had to put one in the books to cover the point. And it was about three years later that the rule was finally worded to cover all possible points, and the boys and girls are still writing.

There is nothing in the constitution now which prohibits an amateur player from playing against a professional player.

If C. C. Pyle appears suddenly before the officials of the association with the Mile. in tow and says: "Gentlemen, here is Mile. Lengien, my tennis star, she wants to play

ERNIE NEVERS

You football fans may not recognize this former Stanford grid star in his baseball outfit. Just this same Ernie Nevers as he looks in the uniform of the St. Louis Browns. Nevers has been doing well during his first year in big time and if his work thus far can be taken as a criterion he should develop into a real hurler.

SODA JERKERS, GROCERS MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Wednesday night's entanglement between the undefeated and league-leading Lee Fountain brigade and the city champion F. C. Blauer Grocers promises to be the outstanding contest on this week's schedule of the Santa Ana City Indoor Baseball circuit at Lincoln park.

This rumput should provide local fans with something of a torrid slabster's scrap between little Jimmy Mansfield, the Fountaineer's big noise, and Gene Hitt, the crack Grocer submariner. The underhand throwing prowess of these two gentlemen needs no belly-hoo. It has been some length of time since they hooked up so their duel should bring a large turnout through Fred Faber's turnstiles.

Teams Are Old Rivals

Lee's Fountain has taken down the line its first three opponents—the Fluors, the O'Donnells and the Santa Ana Lumber company—and Mansfield would like to give Lee Bryant a triumph over Fred Blauer's henchmen. On the other hand, its no secret that the Grocers, hois-

MOLLA WINS BACK HER TITLE

GOING INTO BATTLE—Miss Elizabeth Ryan, left, and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, leaving the clubhouse of the West Side Tennis club at Forest Hills, Long Island, to enter the court for the finals of the national women's singles match, in which Mrs. Mallory won the title for the seventh time.

PACIFIC COAST GRID LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED; L. A. GAMES WILL BE AT WRIGLEY FIELD

FRESNO, Calif., Aug. 30.—With franchises granted to five men in four California cities and temporary officials elected, promoters of the Pacific Football league returned to their home cities today to continue the signing of players.

The promoters met here Sunday, San Francisco, and approved the rules of the new organization, which are generally the same as those of the National Football league.

Franchises were granted to A. E. Santver, Los Angeles; Bob Macomber, Oakland; M. E. Cowen, San Francisco. Cowen was elected temporary chairman and Hollingsberry was named temporary secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the season will run from October 24 to December 26 with three games each Sunday. Games will be played at Wrigley field, Los Angeles; the Oakland ball park and Kezzar field.

PIRATES HOLD LEAD IN WILD PENNANT RACE

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—At the end of another week of hard fighting, the only sure result that can be figured in the National league battle is that one team will win the pennant.

With about two games separating the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cards, it's just a guess on what team will oppose the New York Yankees in the world series and one guess is as good as the other two.

The Pirates are a slight choice of those who back their judgment with money but the Cards perhaps are the sentimental favorites because they never have won a National league pennant. Through the large personal following of Jack Hendricks, Wally Pipp and other popular Cincinnati players, the Reds also have a sentimental hold on the fans.

Pirates Look Good

Pittsburgh still looks good because of logical reasoning that one or two of the leading teams will have to crack and the Pirates are still holding the lead in spite of ups and downs inside and out.

The Pirates won five out of seven games last week and held the Cards to a draw in the game yesterday which opened a series between the two teams. The series looks "crooked" on paper and it could be highly important but it is probable that the two clubs will come out of it on about the same terms they entered.

Last week, after a profitable run, the Cards had some kind of an anti-climax let-down and were tripped up twice by the lowly Phillies. The club just managed to win four out of seven games.

Winning Streak Halted

The Reds had a winning streak of 10 games broken but they played almost perfect baseball in winning seven out of their eight games.

The Chicago Cubs popped back into the running again by winning seven games and increasing a running streak to eight straight games. The Cubs are only about five games behind and that is not a hopeless distance in this crazy race.

The American league race has developed into a battle for second place between the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Yanks are seven games out in front and moving along impressively.

In spite of superstition that it is not well to claim pennants until they are in hand, the Yankees can't help but know that they are "in."

BACK TO SCHOOL

HELEN WILLS

America's little sweetheart of the tennis courts is going back to school—back to the University of California. Helen was forced to default her national title which she has held for three seasons. She withdrew from the annual Forest Hills classic on the advice of her physician. Another year and Helen hopes to win back her laurels. The above photo is the latest taken of the winsome lady from the golden west.

TIERNANS DROP MOUND BATTLE TO H. B. TEAM

In as spirited a pitcher's battle between two veterans as anyone might care to see anywhere, the Republic Supply company of Huntington Beach, with Herby Salveson on the firing line, nosed out the Tiernan Typewriter company of Santa Ana, with George Lackaye in the turret, 2 to 1, at the Huntington Beach high school park yesterday.

Lackaye had slightly the better of the right arm argument but his support faltered behind him in the eighth and two errors allowed Joe Rodgers' Beachcombers to push a winning run around the cushions. Some woody base-running also hurt the locals' chances. Lackaye permitted only four hits and fanned 10 while Salveson was touched for seven safeties and struck out five.

Santa Ana made its first, last and only score in the first inning before a man had been retired. L. Daley was safe on Rodgers' error and scored when Ray Smith whacked a double to center. Thereafter the Tiernans were blanked.

Ted Dietzel evened the score for the Republic Supply when he homed to start his club's half of the second. The count remained at 1 to 1 until the eighth when McGuire singled, went to second on and out and thrill and home on errors.

Manager Neal Raney has booked a return game with the Huntington Beach contingent for August 12. The box score:

Bettors Gertrude's Record
Almost Two Hours; Girl Proposes Special Race

DOVER, England, Aug. 30.—Gertrude Ederle's channel swimming record fell today before the assault of a sturdy German, Ernest Vierkötter, who achieved the crossing from Cape Gris Nez to Dover in 12 hours and 42 minutes—one hour and 49 minutes less than the time required by Miss Ederle on August 6. Vierkötter was accompanied by a tug.

Vierkötter's victory over the channel was the third this month, the third of the season and the eighth in all history. Of the many men who have tried the channel this year, only Vierkötter has succeeded.

The German swimmer entered the water at 1:35 a. m. today and emerged at Landon Stairs, one mile east of here, at 2:17 p. m., only a few soldiers from the nearby battery witnessed Vierkötter's landing. They cheered him for a few minutes but before any appreciable crowd could gather they traded into the water with the German on their shoulders, put him aboard his tug and Vierkötter started back to France.

The two others who conquered the channel this year were Miss Ederle and Mrs. Clemington Corson, both of New York. Mrs. Corson came ashore here and collapsed Saturday at the conclusion of a gallant effort in which she required 15 hours and 38 minutes, which was better than the time of any man swimmer until Vierkötter triumphed today.

GERTRUDE EDERLE WOULD RACE VIERKOTTER

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Gertrude Ederle today challenged Ernest Vierkötter to race her across the English channel next summer. Dudley Field Malone, her manager, announced he had sent the following cable on her behalf to Vierkötter:

"Congratulations on your great channel swim. I hope I can race you across the channel next summer to bring the record back to my sex. Good luck."

MRS. CORSON IS OFFERED FORTUNE IN CONTRACTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Clemington Corson, 37-year-old mother who was the second woman to swim the English channel, already has received contract offers aggregating $200,000, according to Arch Selwyn, producer, now managing her affairs.

Selwyn is working on plans for a swimming meet between Mrs. Corson and Gertrude Ederle and is writing Dudley Field Malone, Miss Ederle's backer, inviting Gertrude to swim around Manhattan island against Mrs. Corson for a purse of $25,000. The sum has been put up by Walter Lissberger, the manufacturer and financial backer of Mrs. Corson.

Among the offers Mrs. Corson has received is one to appear at the Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial, which Selwyn says she will accept. She has cabled him agreeing to compete for the $25,000 offered by William Wrigley Jr., chewing gum manufacturer, for a swim from the California mainland to Santa Catalina island.

Berry Winner of Scribes' Tourney

"Colonel" Berry, police reporter today was awarded the gilded horn for winning the singles championship in The Register editorial room's annual tennis tournament. Berry disposed of Eddie West, 6-4, 3-1, in the finals after eliminating Alfred Ault, Cliff Saffey and E. Merle Hussong in earlier rounds. Ten scribes participated in the tourney which was featured by the showing of "Iron Man" Yould.

TUNNEY LEAVES CAMP

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Gene Tunney was scheduled to wind up active training at his camp today with rigorous roadwork and eight or nine rounds in the ring. Tomorrow he leaves for his new quarters at Stroudsburg, Pa. Tunney boxed four rounds before a large crowd Sunday.

SESQUI PLANS BIG SECTIONAL FOOTBALL GAME

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—The Sesqui-Centennial Exposition is going to take the all-star football game to the sport writers select next November off the paper and put them on the gridiron of the international exposition stadium at Philadelphia. Thereby it may earn the gratitude of every rabid fan by giving him something he had always thought well-nigh impossible of accomplishment.

Since it is out of the question to assemble an All-American team for the simple reason that no opponent would be found for it, Dr. Charles W. Orton, sports director of the exposition, is doing the next best thing at the suggestion of Champ Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Ala., sportsman. He has started negotiations for a game between an all-eastern team and an all-southern team shortly after Thanksgiving Day.

Thirty-one southern scribes are on a committee that will select the men who are to represent the south. Another committee of newspapermen selected by Dr. Orton will pick an all-eastern eleven to oppose the southerners. It is planned to allow both teams to practice in the stadium for several days before the contest.

Only one thing is now still necessary to insure the playing of the game and that is the permission of college authorities to allow their men to take part in it. Dr. Orton has already written to a number of institutions, among them Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Boston College, Lafayette, Penn State, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Brown, Swarthmore and Lehigh for this permit.

In Madison Square Garden and we want some opponents for her."

The officials, under existing circumstances, can only reply that no amateur can play in an unsanctioned tournament. Pyle could come back and put it up to them—"Well, sanction this list of tournaments."

The officials could refuse and Mr. Pyle could consult his lawyers because he, like Jack Dempsey, has found that public prominence forces the prominent to become more than socially acquainted with lawyers. Pyle might get an injunction and the right of the association to be would have to be passed upon by the national dictator of tennis higher courts.

The fourth week's activity in the local loop will get under way this evening with a scramble between "Tex" Bergman's Excelsors and "Shorty" O'Donnell's Donnels. The O'Donnells have had their troubles getting started but "Tex" Bergman is a notorious "hard luck" pitcher and the O'Donnells have hopes of taking advantage of his ill fortune and nick him for their initial success.

Fluors Meet Lumbermen

The Fluor Constructionists face the Santa Ana Lumber company tomorrow night. The Fluors will be handicapped considerably because Lloyd Johnson, Ted Rasmussen and Gus Homer, three of their big guns, will be playing against Arlington in Whittier's play-off series.

The strongest possible Santa Ana team will be recruited Thursday night to play a return match here with the Long Beach All-Stars, whom the locals nosed out, 6 to 5, last week. The Beachcombers asked for another contest after their defeat and announced that they would bring here the best talent in Long Beach to even scores. Santa Ana also can put a tougher club on the field this week, for that matter, for several of the leading home-town-ers were unable to be in the lineup at the first meeting between the two organizations.

Lincoln park probably will be dark Friday night. The Orange County league schedule was completed last week and thus far no game has been arranged for the open date.

Girl Sets Fresh Water Swim Mark

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—Miss Billie Paananen, Finnish-American girl, who last winter established a world's bowling record by completing 140 consecutive games in one day with an average of 178, yesterday swam 22 miles in the Detroit river, making what is believed to be a woman's fresh water record. Her time was 10 hours and 29 minutes.

BILLY EVANS

OFF-YEAR FOR MANY

Every major league club has in its lineup, two or three players regarded as the big batting punch of the team, the cleanup boys.

In a measure, the success of every club largely depends upon how these players deliver at the bat. This has been an off-year for many of the game's greatest hitters and their clubs have suffered as a result.

A sharp decline in the batting averages of George Sisler and Ken Williams, has played havoc with the St. Louis Browns.

Cleveland, in the early stages, missed the timely base hits that Tris Speaker is wont to crack out in the pinch. Jamieson's slump at the bat also hurt.

No club in the American league has suffered more than the Athletics as a result of an unexpected decline in team batting. It has been a tough season for Al Simmons, the batting sensation of last year.

On the other hand, in the American league, New York has profited by the timely hitting of Lazzeri and Gehrig and the comeback of Ruth.

That explains why the Yankees are now out in front.

A REAL EXCEPTION

Usually when a club loses much of its batting punch, pennant hopes are shattered.

The St. Louis Cardinals of this year, loom as one decided exception to the rule. The Cards have carried on, despite a batting shrinkage that would ordinarily mean certain failure.

Rogers Hornsby and Jim Bottomley are commonly regarded as the big kick of the Cardinals. Rival pitchers have a wholesome respect for their batting prowess.

It is safe to say, that if these two great batsmen had hit in 1925 form, the Cardinals would have been out in front with about a five-game margin.

HOME RUN SHRINKAGE

Incidentally there has been a decided shrinkage in home runs as in the ordinary brand of base hits, such as singles.

The number of circuit swats in the two big leagues has been cut down about one-third of last year's totals.

Babe Ruth and "Goose" Goslin are about the only two players who are going at a faster home clip than last season.

Despite this, Ruth, who has been shooting at 60 circuit swats, will be fortunate if he reaches the 50 mark. It is doubtful if he will.

BOILS GET BLAME

It is doubtful if two players ever had so unusual an alibi to offer for their batting slump.

"If we fail to win the pennant, you can charge it to an over crop of boils," remarked Hornsby to me recently.

BOILS GET BLAME

"I have had about 15 of them this season and Bottomley is not far behind."

And to prove his statement, he showed me a mean looking boil on the back of one of his hands that would have kept the ordinary player on the bench.

KEEP ASSOCIATE JUSTICE JESSE W. CURTIS ON THE SUPREME BENCH OF CALIFORNIA

WILLIAM GIBBS MCADOO—"Judge Jesse W. Curtis by his long record on the bench and his exceptional qualifications for judicial office ought to succeed himself as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of California."

DR. GEORGE F. BOWARD, President Emeritus University of Southern California—"I have known Judge Curtis quite intimately for a good number of years. He has a clean record both as a citizen and a public official. He is an able jurist with many years of experience on the bench."

"He is a rare man, and fully merits the confidence and favorable consideration of the citizenry of this great state."

DAVID J. REESE, President State Civil Service Commission—"The state of California needs and must have as its Associate Justice a man who is not only possessed of brilliant legal attainments, of broad and comprehensive knowledge of the law gained by long years of successful practice at the bar and in official judicial positions, but also of unimpaired character, of unwavering mind and firm opinion. Such a man California now has in Hon. Jesse W. Curtis, Associate Justice of the state supreme court. I am pleased and proud to lend my efforts and my vote in his deserved reelection to the position he now occupies."

FRANK P. FLINT, Former United States Senator—"Judge Curtis for some time and know him to be a man of sterling qualities. I believe Associate Justice Jesse W. Curtis to be one of the ablest and best jurists in the state of California. I feel no hesitancy in saying that California needs the services of men of this high character, integrity and wide experience in the judiciary and I am pleased to add my word for the retention of Judge Curtis in the position that he now holds."

ELIZABETH LOUISE CLARKE (Mrs. George Herbert Clarke, Board of Education of Los Angeles—"The women of California know that the highest court in our state should be administered by men of wide knowledge, real, and not merely legal, honesty, men without bias or prejudice and a physical ability and willingness to carry and sustain heavy burdens of study and work."

"I earnestly recommend his reelection to succeed himself as Associate Justice for the Supreme Court of California."

LOS ANGELES EXPRESS, July 23, 1926—"Judge Curtis has a particularly fine record of faithful, conscientious public service and is just the kind of a jurist to be continued in office."

"Judge Curtis is pre-eminently deserving of re-nomination and re-election. Such men cannot be spared from the highest tribunal of the state."

"THE LABOR JOURNAL," San Bernardino, California, July 23, 1926—"It is with pleasure that the Labor Journal can speak of a former citizen of this community, with the assurance and knowledge that Judge Curtis is all that we represent him to be. A man of honor, fearless in the performance of his duty, bound to no one but God and Justice. His re-election would add to the honor of the law and to the professional class he represents and to the arm of the law as portrayed through the course of the hand. We wish him success, we recommend him to our friends. There can be no mistake made in the support of so able a man."

POVERTY FACED BY AGED FOLK IN FRANCE FALL

PAIRS, Aug. 30.—The constant fluctuations of the franc, especially during the last few months, have probably caused no greater hardship to any class than to the "petit rentiers," as those having small annuities are called in France.

These are chiefly elderly people unable to do much to help themselves and who had invested savings in national bonds that under ordinary circumstances would have provided a modest but sufficient income for their old age.

Rainy Day Safeguard

But with the plunge of the franc this one time safeguard against a rainy day dwindled almost to nothing in view of the recent rates of exchange and the steadily increasing cost of living.

With what once was a very comfortable annuity of 2000 or 4000 francs it is now difficult to eke out a meager living, and many persons with yearly incomes of 2000 francs (about $65 at the present rate of exchange) face poverty.

A little more than $1 a week is a lamentably small amount to live on anywhere, even in the Arctic Circle, let alone France. Of course, many of these petit rentiers, unless crippled or feeble with age, have found some means of augmenting their incomes by part-time work, but even so, living costs are a big problem.

Annuity holders in some villages and towns really need assistance and local officials are trying to aid them as best they can.

Town Provides Meals

One town instituted the policy of providing meals at popular prices by forming an "Association of Petit Rentiers." Thus the meal costs were shared by all and the individual expense greatly diminished.

In one town alone there are 300 persons on the beneficiary list and the organization has taken over empty barracks and converted them into canteens where everything is managed on co-operative lines.

In addition cottages have been constructed which are rented at very modest rentals. Another economy measure is the central market, where produce is gathered in by those capable of working for the good of the community.

Even with 2000 francs a year petit rentiers will manage living with a little sobriety and considerable philosophy, aided, they hope, by the rapid stabilization of the franc.

Men Outnumbered By British Women

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The latest Registrar-General's report shows there were nearly 2,000,000 more women than men in England. The review says that in June of 1924 the population of England and Wales was estimated at 33,764,000 persons, 15,545,000 being males and 20,201,000 females.

Our Trip To Vancouver ---Impressions and Observations

By J. P. Baumgartner
FOURTH ARTICLE

Far be from my intention to start anything in the way of a discussion of the question of government ownership of railways, but one cannot observe the operations of the Canadian Pacific railway (government owned and operated) without a feeling of admiration. The "CPR"—they say it up there without periods after the initials—operates not only a great transcontinental railway but also steamship lines, docks, terminal facilities and a marvelous string of hotels from the Frontenac at Quebec to the Empress at Victoria.

And now it is adding a great golf course to its many other facilities for catering to the tourist business. Situated on the historical Point Grey peninsula, south of the city of Vancouver and overlooking the vast stretches of the Pacific ocean, the new Canadian Pacific railway's golf course, "Langara," is one of the finest public golf links of the Pacific coast.

It has become a Mecca for visiting and local golfing enthusiasts, 8000 of whom have played over the course since it was opened to the public July 1.

The vastness of the fairways, which cover an area of 114 acres, and a rule which permits an interval of four minutes between each set of players, eliminates overcrowding.

One does not need to be a transportation expert to see the efficiency of the Canadian government's business activities and it isn't difficult to believe the claims made for its economy, at least from a government point of view.

The Canadian people swear by the "CPR."

Canada as a whole and British Columbia ports, especially, are counting big on Oriental trade. Allan Cameron, Oriental manager of the "CPR" is now in Canada on a business trip and is quoted as saying:

"The biggest trade development of the twentieth century will be on the Pacific, and it will be directed towards China, with its population of 400,000,000. Their purchasing power is steadily growing with the increase of earning power by its laboring classes who constitute four-fifths of its population."

In this development Canada will in all likelihood occupy an important position. The dominion now has a steady and growing market in China for flour, lumber, etc., and the list of Canadian products being exported to the Orient is constantly growing.

I don't know any Pacific coast dairymen figures—not from memory, at least—but I believe the industry is growing. And well it may, both for health's sake and in the interest of economy. Milk products are among the best and cheapest foods, and they yield comparatively large returns to those who produce them—especially when fertilizer values are considered.

Therefore it was gratifying to note, through parts of California and all through northern Oregon and Washington the hundreds of herds of fine dairy cows.

In California, of course, the principal agricultural concomitant of the dairy herd is alfalfa. In Monterey county, around Salinas and King City, dairymen and alfalfa seemed to be almost universal. To be sure, some beans are grown in that section, but they looked mighty sickly compared with Orange county bean fields.

Our Neighbors WILBUR TALKS ON TRAINING FOR NAVY

COMPTON—Compton is going to make another try for oil. Material is on the ground and erection of a derrick starts soon on the southwest corner of Olive and Compton Avenues, backed by a syndicate made up almost entirely of Compton business men. It is not a stock selling proposition, the corporation being a closed concern. The permit for the derrick was taken out by A. J. Miller, Superintendent for the Liberty Oil company, of Long Beach, and the well is to be known as the Ramsey-Bemus No. 1, which would indicate that a well known Long Beach operator is interested. The company formed to handle the financing of the project is known as the Dominguez Extension Oil company, and 80 per cent of the personnel are Compton business men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—"It may be, and we hope that no man trained in the navy today will live to see or participate in another major war," declared Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, addressing the San Francisco Commonwealth club.

The secretary, who is visiting San Francisco with the U. S. battle fleet, preliminary to departure for the Atlantic coast, told of the navy as an educational institution, where men, some raw and others previously trained, are taught to be of service to the nation as well as to themselves.

"It may be believed," Secretary Wilbur continued, "that from the standpoint of national defense, the only value of the training of men for service in the navy will be the constant demonstration of the purpose of the nation not to find itself unprepared for such a war; but whether there be a war or not, it is difficult to emphasize the importance to the nation of returning to its citizenship each year from 6000 to 15,000 young men, who have been instilled with patriotism and who have learned to use their hands and heads effectively in the service of the nation," and who have touched hands and joined heads and hearts with young men from every part of the nation to maintain the honor and dignity of the flag."

IMPERIAL—Gophers proved an expensive pest in Imperial Valley during the last 12 months, according to figures made public in the report of M. J. Dowd, Imperial irrigation district superintendent. The total bounty paid for gophers was shown to be $37,916.36, or which the county paid $12,196.36, and the district paid $24,068.15. Muskkrats cost the district $549.06 during the same period. Gophers in Imperial valley really are a serious problem for they invariably bore their tunnels in ditch banks just above the water line. If the water level is raised, it naturally breaks through the bank and floods fields and highways in the district.

SAN BERNARDINO—San Bernardino has been chosen as the center for a $50,000 poultry packing industry which will ship from 500,000 to 1,000,000 pounds of poultry annually. It was announced by the chamber of commerce. It will bring to this city a large annual payroll, representing from 12 to 25 employees. Plans are being completed for construction of a packing plant on G street, immediately south of Rialto avenue, A. C. Davis, secretary of the new concern, said. The firm, which is financed largely by San Bernardino capital, is known as the San Bernardino Poultry Packing company.

EL CENTRO—City trustees announce that they will not be forced to increase the rate of taxation to meet the estimated expenses of operating the city government for the coming fiscal year. The budget approved by the city trustees totals $145,148.13. The operating expenses of the budget are divided as follows: General fund, $33,724.31; street department, $16,555.03; sewers, $12,936.27; fire department, $15,235; parks, $2856; literally 12,000 bond retirement and interest

FILIPINOS BLAMED FOR ISLAND STRIFE

ZAMBOANGA, P. I., Aug. 30.—Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood has placed the entire blame on the Christian Filipinos for the clash with the Mohammedan Moros on the occasion of Col. Carmi Thompson's arrival.

Filipino leaders meet this announcement with the assertion that General Wood personally set the stage for the clash and connived with U. S. army officers in so doing. Hearing of the clash, Governor Wood rushed back to Zamboanga, summoned witnesses and conducted a thorough investigation of the trouble.

A few days before Thompson's arrival, Governor Wood obtained a promise from the Christian Filipinos that they would remain in a side street until Thompson had been landed. This he believed would avoid a clash with Mohammedans, who predominate. Wood declares in his findings that the Filipinos violated the agreement.

The insular senate has ordered an investigation of charges that army officers are stirring up strife in Mindanao, in order to convince Colonel Thompson that serious situation exists. Meanwhile there are daily demonstrations here against Governor General Wood and the army staff.

California Does Not Need a Mussolini!

The contest for the Republican nomination for Governor has been invaded by a powerful banker, A. P. Giannini, head of the Bancitaly Corporation.

He has ordered his vast string of banking institutions to join the ranks of the political bosses of Los Angeles and San Francisco in their attempt to "get Gov. Richardson."

Banker Giannini wants C. C. Young elected Governor. WHY?

Banker Giannini wants his own Governor; he wants an official who will give him what Gov. Richardson has refused to give him—special privileges and favors.

If Young is elected, Banker Giannini expects to be the financial dictator of California.

This State does not need a Mussolini, financial, political or otherwise.

C. C. Julian, oil promoter, who testified under oath that he is not a citizen of the United States, is spending thousands of dollars to defeat Richardson and elect Young.

Do the people want Banker Giannini and Promoter Julian to run the banking department and the Corporation Commission of California?

Keep Banker Giannini and Promoter Julian, an alien, out of our State government.

Vote for Gov. Richardson, who has courage, ability and integrity. Vote for a Governor who has no favors for Banker Giannini, Promoter Julian or any other individual or group of individuals.

This is a fight against the political bosses, the disgruntled and avaricious promoters and those whose dreams of power prompt them to support a man willing to grant their demands.

These facts are self-evident: If Young is elected, Banker Giannini will name the next Superintendent of Banks; if Richardson is elected the present regime of economy, efficiency, maintenance of law and order, honesty and NO FAVORITES will continue.

We appeal to the intelligence and judgment of the Republican voters of California in urging a VOTE FOR RICHARDSON.

Salesgirls Dread Bargain Days

Louisa was tired. From morning until night she had been on her feet in the busy department store. No matter how she felt, she must serve her customers with a smile. Her head throbbed and her feet ached. Week after week, she felt her strength ebbing until she was in a run-down condition, not fit to work.

"My mother suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," she writes. "I took only three bottles and it brought me about all right." Through the Vegetable Compound, she found better health to do her work and she told the other girls about it.

That was several years ago. Louisa is now Mrs. L. J. Van Dyke of 1246 Spring St., Morrell Park, Baltimore, Md. She is the mother of three healthy, active children. She says that she found the tonic effect of the Vegetable Compound helpful to her during this entire period.

Every working girl knows that to do her work properly and easily she must have good health. She can not afford to lose time from her work. Girls who suffer from a run-down condition should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

N. T. Edwards Exposes Falsity of Attacks on Governor Richardson

To the People of Orange County:

Being an appointee of Governor Richardson, I have had, heretofore, some hesitancy about entering actively into the present campaign for governor. However, since the opposition has found it necessary to import speakers into this county to attack the Governor; and since of these speakers, one is a United States Senator who is not himself a candidate and the other is a Congressman who has no opposition, it seems to me, now, not to be out of place for an Orange county man, one who has lived 50 years in the county, to contribute something to the discussion.

I repeat that I have hesitated to actively enter the campaign, but have listened to attacks by outsiders which are with so little foundation in truth that as a member of the present administration, I cannot, in self-respect, refrain from an answer.

Most of you know me. I have, as I said, lived in this county more than 50 years. I hope that in that time I have established some reputation for truth and integrity. I believe there should be some straight truths told at the present time.

I believe that it is time to meet some of the misrepresentations that have been offered in this campaign on the Colorado River project. Governor Richardson has been condemned by his opponents for what they assert is his attitude toward the Colorado River project. I want to tell you the truth about that.

I have driven over the desert roads between here and the Colorado river and along that river with Governor Richardson, not once, but many times. I can tell you that the Governor knows the Colorado river problem as well as any man in California and that he has always expressed to me the most sincere interest in the project.

I can tell you that the state highways, particularly the Mecca-Blythe road in the desert, have been located with reference to the probable location of work on the Los Angeles aqueduct. The probable needs of Los Angeles and Southern California, the problems of transportation in the desert, as they relate to the aqueduct, have had consideration from this administration.

The gentlemen imported into this county to attack the administration have been told that the Governor is hostile to the Boulder Dam. The facts of common knowledge, that his engineers have been working on the problem of distribution of the Colorado waters in Southern California for two years; that the Governor submitted the seven state pact to the California legislature with the recommendation that it be adopted; that the Governor carried the cause of Boulder Dam to the editors of the nation in his San Diego speech and got their support; these facts of common knowledge do not embroil these imported gentlemen in their outrageous charges against him. Perhaps Mr. West is angry because the Governor did not come to Washington and pull his bill out of the House committee where it has reported during the present moment. The fact is that the Governor has the same interest in the Boulder Dam that President Coolidge has and Mr. Hoover has and Mr. Work has. He is the same kind of a Republican that they are and he is the same kind of a statesman that they are. I cannot honestly say the same for his principal opponent in this campaign.

In fact, Mr. Young is a Republican at all as his political record will show. Mr. Young was the author of the Boulder Dam bill that sought to wipe out the Republican party in this state.

To me it seems that the election of Mr. Young as governor of California would have an effect on Boulder Dam legislation opposite to that which Mr. Young pretends it would have. It seems to me that to give this state over into the hands of such enemies of the Coolidge administration as Senator Johnson would be a rebuke to the Coolidge administration, which the President would be justified in resenting.

Political Statements

FOR JAMES E. LIVESEY
James E. Livesey, of Santa Ana is closing a hard clean campaign. "It is a pleasure to campaign in Orange county," stated Livesey. "Everywhere I have been I have received kind consideration and much encouragement, and I feel that I will come under the primary tape tomorrow ahead of my two worthy opponents."

"I have pointed out that as a realtor and as president of the Santa Ana Realty board, I have come to know the needs of the county's people. I had the honor of serving as foreman of the grand jury at its last meeting, and anyone who will examine the records will find that I saved the taxpayers last year in expense of the board, $1,585.54 over the corresponding cost of the board for the year 1924, and that the operation of the board under my management cost the county quite a bit less than any previous one for the past several years. I believe in practical economy like that."

FOR SAM JERNIGAN
"The rapidly changing sentiment in favor of the re-election of Sam Jernigan as sheriff of Orange county is gratifying to that official and his friends," said a Jernigan leader today. "Viewing the contest impartially it is patent that Sheriff Jernigan, through conscientious endeavor, is entitled to a second term. Orange county voters are owed for rewarding a good first term official with a second and they claim that Sheriff Jernigan comes within that rule. They point to such a courtesy extended the opponent of Mr. Jernigan and say they can see no reason why the custom should not be continued to include the present official, who has given Orange county a faithful and efficient service."

SAMUEL SHORTRIDGE

Confident of success at the polls tomorrow, Senator Shortridge today issued his final statement of the primary campaign. He said: "I have stood in this campaign, as I have for more than 40 years in this state, upon the Republican platform, supporting Republican policies and principles. It is my ambition to continue to serve California as a Republican United States senator. All I ask of the people of this state is that they examine the record and judge me accordingly."

"As the primary election closes, I rent my car with many people of California, confident of victory at the polls on Tuesday. "Those who oppose me are, in the main, those who have consistently fought the President and the party in the carrying out of those pledges and the support of those policies which are Calvin Coolidge's."

"California prosperity rests and depends to the greatest degree upon adequate tariff duties, and I shall continue to defend and justify the Republican protective tariff system, with special reference to the products and industries of California."

"A member of the senate committee on naval affairs I shall continue to give earnest thought and attention to our naval establishment here on the Pacific coast. As a member of the committee on reclamation and irrigation I shall continue to do all in my power to bring about a solution of the Colorado river problem and obtain authorization to proceed at once with the construction of a dam in Boulder canyon, a canal on American soil for Imperial valley and the development of electrical power."

FOR S. W. STANLEY

S. W. Stanley of Tustin, former president of the Orange County Farm bureau, is a candidate for supervisor of the fifth district. Friends and neighbors of this candidate know him to be a man of unquestioned integrity. He has shown his interest in public affairs and his capability as a leader. At the present time he is a member of the Orange County Fair board. Stanley is an orchardist, but has found time to devote much energy to farm bureau and chamber of commerce activities.

FOR C. E. JACKSON

C. E. Jackson, candidate for sheriff, said today that arrangements had been made by some of his friends to have automobiles on hand for transporting voters to the polls. Anyone desiring the use of an automobile for that purpose, he said, should telephone 977W or 1546V.

FOR HORACE FINE

"My contemporaries for the office of county treasurer have been clean in the campaigning, and I did them in no way responsible for the false stories circulated as to my alignment with certain organizations and institutions," said Horace Fine.

"If I am elected, I will go into office unpledged to any institution or to any man, woman or child in the county or anywhere else. "The banking of county funds among the banks of the county on interest is one of the features of the conduct of the office. It will be my purpose to treat the financial organizations on an equitable basis, and to exact from them adequate security and compensation for the county for the funds on deposit. I believe I have had business experience that qualifies me for taking care of the details of the office in an efficient way."

FOR Z. B. WEST JR.

That he is unusually qualified by education, experience and temperament to transact the important duties of the office have at all times, through a vigorous and dignified campaign, been advanced by Z. B. West Jr., and his supporters, as reasons why he should be elected district attorney of Orange county tomorrow.

West, the oldest son of the veteran jurist, Superior Judge Z. B. West, was born in this city, is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and of the Stanford university law school. He also attended the University of California at Berkeley after the armistice was signed in the World War in which he served, at home and abroad, with the United States army for more than two years.

For the past three and a half years West has served as city attorney for the city of Santa Ana and acted as counsel for the New-Hart Protection district and the La Habra Storm Water Protection district. He has been unreservedly endorsed by the board of trustees of Santa Ana and by the boards of directors of the other two organizations.

West is a member of the Baptist church, has been active in all American Legion affairs and declares he will, if elected, enforce fairly, impartially and fearlessly all laws.

FOR C. N. MOZLEY

Closing a hard, intensive campaign for district attorney, C. N. Mozley is today looking to tomorrow's election with confidence. His friends join with him in urging the voters of Mozley to be sure to get to the polls tomorrow, for with only two candidates for district attorney, the election will be final on that office. In the campaign, Mozley's friends have pointed out that as deputy district attorney he has become thoroughly familiar with the county's business and has proven beyond question his ability to handle the work of the district attorney's office. They believe he is entitled to be advanced to the head of the office.

HONOR EXPLORER

HONOLULU, Aug. 30.—The spot on the island of Kauai where Capt. James Cook, British navigator and discoverer of Hawaii, landed 150 years ago, will be marked with a monument or tablet, if a drive for funds started by the Pan-Pacific club is a success. Captain Cook landed in 1778, the first white man to set foot on Hawaiian soil. He designated his landing by carving an arrow in the face of a large rock. This sign is still to be seen. Cook was later killed by the natives.

COUNTY CENTER
BY COL. FINLEY

With plans for the erection of a county general hospital, as well as a county junior college to be located at a central point, the following data bearing the county's geographical and population centers, prepared by Col. S. H. Finley, member of the board of supervisors, and a civil engineer, is of more than passing interest.

Colonel Finley's statement, setting forth his observations, follows: "There have been frequent references recently by various persons as to the geographical and population centers of the county of Orange which are not true in fact; owing probably to lack of investigation as to the real conditions."

Use Registration Figures
"Believing that the registration is the best available authority on the population question, I took the returns in the county clerk's office at the registration for the primary elections, and used them in determining the actual center of population."

"These figures show that the population is equally divided by a line running directly east and west between Santa Clara avenue and Seventeenth street, through Lemon Heights, 3.4 mile south of Garden Grove, and 1.4 mile north of Westminster."

"They also show that there are approximately 4,000 more people southeast of the Santa Ana river than northwest of it. Thus, a line approximately paralleling the river and coast line, equally dividing the population, would pass through the northwest portion of the cities of Orange and Santa Ana."

Center on Flower Street

"The intersection of these two lines would be very close to a point on Flower street, 1,400 feet north of Seventeenth street, thus indicating the actual center of population is about two miles southeast of the county hospital."

"The geographical center of Orange county is the property of the San Joaquin Fruit company near Irvine."

"These two conclusions are very easy of confirmation by anyone who is willing to devote a little time to the investigation. "Two years ago at the time the registration closed for the presidential elections, I made a similar calculation and determined the population center at that time to be about Flower and Santa Clara streets. The present registration shows that in last two years it has shifted slightly to the south."

Tree Falling
Before Traffic
In Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—More and more of the romantic emblems of the national capital are disappearing beneath the juggernaut of modern traffic.

The relentless crush recently has denied standing room to many of the fine old trees that for so long have spread their ample shade over the streets of the capital. In some towns an unusual air of comical quietude.

City officials have decided that along certain arterial thoroughfares the curbs must be pushed back beyond the old tree line, taking with them dozens of towering leafy sentinels.

Two principal entrances to the city, Blaisdell road and Connecticut avenue are undergoing extensive alterations. Connecticut avenue contains many fine residences, housing distinguished personages and society folk. It leads out to the golf clubs.

Northwest B street, which runs from the Lincoln memorial in Potomac park, to the capitol, is being widened and eventually will be a solid link between the capitol and Arlington memorial bridge, now under construction.

In the business district, Eleventh, Thirteenth and E streets are being spread out to relieve the ever-tightening pressure of traffic.

EATS 42 HOT DOGS

NEW LONDON, Ct., Aug. 30.—Aldo Montali recently settled forever the question of whether he could eat more hot dogs than Jack Missmin, a sailor. Montali won after downing 42 of the dainties. Missmin was forced to pause at 38. Half an hour after the contest Montali declared he could eat a few more.

DEPOSITS GAIN
HONOLULU, Aug. 30.—Deposits in Honolulu banks increased $6,402,174 during the last 12 months, according to figures released by the various banking institutions here recently.

Dr. C. D. Ball Points Out Vital Need, Metropolitan Water Bill

Editor Register:—In the last three or four days of the campaign many efforts have been put forth to becloud the issue in relation to the Metropolitan Water District bill, which measure was defeated at the last legislature by a vote that included the vote of my opponent, Mr. Hartranft.

An effort has been made to scare the voters of this county into thinking that in some way this bill contains bug-a-boos and hobgoblins. We are warned to look out that Los Angeles doesn't swallow us whole. Why, the Metropolitan Water bill makes it sure that Los Angeles cannot swallow us just as she has swallowed a dozen towns around Los Angeles. Because they couldn't get water elsewhere, they had to be annexed to Los Angeles. We are in order to get water? We surely do not. We want a supply of our own that will be adequate for our cities when they are two, three or five times the size they are now. And the only way we can get that supply is to go to the Colorado river.

Not long ago Santa Ana planned to put city pumping plants in West Orange. That kind of thing can be stopped if the Metropolitan water bill passes. The Metropolitan Water bill as presented for vote at the last legislature amply safeguarded the cities of Orange county. Domination by Los Angeles was absolutely prevented. Under that bill, any cities in the group in the district could stop the payment of any warrant they would want to stop. What greater protection could you ask?

Moreover, any Orange county city that would go into the district would have water supplied it at exactly the same cost as the city that might be directly upon the aqueduct. What greater concession could we ask? That meant that the district would have to build 40-mile and 50-mile laterals to bring us water.

And, further, there is not a thing in this bill that compels any city to go into the district that does not want to go. It is not a bill that compels anything like that. But, if passed, as it surely should be, it will give those cities that want to do so an OPPORTUNITY to join with other cities in getting the water of the Colorado delivered to them.

Unless the bill passes, no district can be formed. Unless a district is formed, no city excepting Los Angeles will ever get a drop of water from the Colorado river, for Los Angeles is the only city wealthy enough to build the aqueduct alone.

This whole matter seems to me to be perfectly clear. We absolutely must have that bill passed. And I give you my word, as a citizen who has lived in this county nearly 40 years, as a man, that I will vote for it.

ELIOT AND VALENTINO

Santa Ana, Aug. 27, 1926.
Editor Register:—It is interesting to speculate upon whether the managers of the majority of the great newspapers of the country are reading the public mind aright in giving the public mind aright in giving the history of Rudolf Valentino, and comparatively little space to the passing of Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university.

There can be little doubt in the minds of thoughtful people as to which of these two men has contributed more to public welfare. The first, a resident here only a few years, has been a fine entertainer. The second, during a long and busy life has had great influence on the economics, thought, and sentiment of this nation.

On first thought, this would seem a serious reflection upon the American people, and one would conclude that a decreasing proportion of our populace is keeping in touch with the more sober side of life, and a correspondingly increasing number of people are giving themselves up more and more to nervous excitement and temporary entertainment. This would bode evil for the progress of the race.

On the other hand, all the great forward steps in commerce, science and thought have been made by only a few people, and the majority of us follow the leader. We do what someone else has laid out for us to do and take things largely as we find them. After all, this is probably the safest attitude in the long run for the majority of people, and so long as we do have a small but active minority busily engaged in the libraries and laboratories all over the land in the pursuit of new inventions, new discoveries and new thought, we may rest assured that, with the advantage of knowledge already gained by their predecessors, and with the increased facilities for work and research now at hand, we may expect each succeeding generation, as a whole, to have made reasonable and satisfactory progress.

OLD DEATH CHAIR
CREATES PUZZLE

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 30.—Historians were given something else to figure out with the finding in North Carolina of an old garrotte, a Spanish instrument for strangling prisoners.

The gruesome relic of the inquisitorial colonial times was found imbedded under a heap of rubbish near Tryon palace, one-time capital of the old Northstate. The chair, which is being exhibited in a show window at New Bern, has brought forth numerous conjectures regarding its probable record of torture.

One belief prevails that the garrotte was brought to North Carolina by one of the early royal governors, and was used for the punishment of criminals and was kept in an underground passage, which, it is said, once led from the "house of torture" to Trent river.

However, this belief is rejected by some. Whether or not the contraption was ever used by colonial rulers or tribunals is not definitely known, as the history of the garrotte cannot be traced with accuracy.

TRAPPERS IN AUTOS

SMITHERS, B. C., Aug. 30.—The Indian trappers of the Bulkley valley have abandoned the moose and canoe in favor of the automobile. The Unchea people was treated to a strange spectacle recently when a whole caravan of automobiles, loaded with pelts, came through the forests. The fur traders welcome the change because pelts are easier to market quicker and in much better condition than formerly.

LINEBERGER
For Senator
Two Issues
HE IS RIGHT ON BOTH!

First. About the Boulder Dam and All-American Canal. The following letter from Congressman Phil D. Swing is conclusive.

Washington, D. C., January 8, 1925.

Mr. E. E. Hale,
Brawley, Calif.
Dear Mr. Hale:

Regarding Congressman Lineberger's activities in behalf of our Colorado River legislation, I am glad to say he has always done everything he could to be helpful. He has never failed to cheerfully respond whenever I have called on him for assistance. I consider him a true friend of the project in every way.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) PHIL D. SWING.

This queers Judge Clarke's assertion made Thursday evening at Birch Park that Phil D. Swing was the only congressman to support the Swing-Johnson Bill.

NUF SED

As to the second issue, Walter F. Lineberger has the unquestioned endorsement of the following organizations:

The Committee of 8000 of the California Women's Law Enforcement League.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The California Anti-Saloon League, which means all the Protestant Churches in the state.

The California Federated Voters' League.

And many others, practically every organized body of citizens in California standing for law enforcement and good government.

What further assurance of his fitness to represent you in the U. S. Senate do you want to secure your vote?

Lineberger for three successive terms in Congress has been tried on the DRY issue. Coerced, cajoled, threatened by the minions of the Association Against Prohibition and has stood as he did as a soldier in the World War, face to the front, and taken his wounds like a man, but he STOOD. His vote has always been right.

Do you think he will fail us in the Senate? You know he will not and you also know that he is the only candidate whom you can absolutely depend upon.

His majority in his first election to Congress was 11,000, his second 21,000, his third 53,000. This time let's make it 100,000 for the Senate.

The wet vote is divided between Shortridge and Clarke. The dry vote concentrates on Lineberger. On which side do you stand? We will all know next Tuesday.

Roams Primeval
Superior Forest

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 30.—Primeval forests, where moose, deer and bear roam and eagles fly, still may be found untouched by logger's ax, in parts of the Superior National forest.

Situated along the Canadian boundary line, just west of Lake Superior in Lake Superior, the national forest covers one and one-fourth million acres. Each year some mature timber is harvested, but it is all done under direction of the U. S. Forest service, by private companies.

No more is cut than the annual growth, so the forest may be perpetuated, and much of the vast district never has heard the ring of an ax.

POE'S STORIES: The Purloined Letter

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

The man who stole the letter, then, was known to be the Minister D. But the problem confronting the police was to find the stolen document. They had searched high and low for it in the minister's rooms. In their zeal they had even punched long pins through the upholstery of the chairs.

Meantime Minister D was using the information of the letter to force the queen to grant great political favors.

Utterly in the power of the minister, the queen had called upon the prefect of police, beseeching him to recover the letter.

Every resource was used by the police. Disguised as footpads, they had twice waylaid the minister and searched his person, but without avail. The prefect was a discouraged man. Leaving Dupin a description of the letter, he departed. (Continued.)

A WOMAN'S DAY

By Allene Sumner

Venice, Italy, Aug. 30.—Some women, a dubious few, may come to Europe to see the leaning tower of Pisa, and the Roman forum.

But a howling mob of 'em, a hundred thousand million, come for the great shopping day of their lives—come with blood in their eyes, and stretch in their elbows to battle their way into the bargain jam of beaded bags today!

Florence may mean the birthplace of Dante and the huge canvas upon which Michelangelo hung his wizardry to one or two feminine souls! But to a hundred million it means the place where illumined and colored leather Florentine bags may be purchased for five dollars.

Venice may mean Saint Mark's and the Doge's Palace to one or two, but to a milling mob it means Venetian point collars big enough to girdle humming bird's buxom throat, for the simple price of twenty dollars.

Uncle Sam allows free passage for a hundred dollars worth of loot to each returning female of the native soil.

This means that the hotel lobby conversation over the entire expanse of Europe consists of the respective merits of smuggling rings in toothpaste or cold cream, and the maximum weight permitting one to "wear in" three dresses.

Perhaps there is a certain bitterness in my soul today on the great European shopping quest. There's a reason. In the shape of a certain soft suede handbag in the suitcase which my duenna, Fanny Herring Pretzel, packs with faithful care some four times weekly, as we flit from Rome to Florence, from Florence to Venice.

The bag in question looked heavenly in Florence. It was marked 250 lire. But one learns after the first shopping spree that appearances are only tag deep when it comes to price tags abroad. After much hand conversation it became mine for the sum of 180 lire; about six dollars and sixty-five cents.

Now we are in Venice, city of Lagoons and mosaic beads. And here my bag, once so fair to see, rests in no less than 16 windows, for the sum of 100 lire.

This is the reason of shopping in Europe. Go south, young man, go south! The early bird catches the lucre. But as one nears the sun and one's family purse grows thinner and skinnier, the prices tumble like Lillian Lelzler from the big top.

Perhaps you must have a Parisian gown! But make up your mind that if you must you will devote every waking and sleeping moment in Paris to that gown, and that gown only! Parisian courtesiers would no more sell a ready-made gown than the wine connoisseur would drink orange pop!

Madame must call and call again. Finally "the creation" which is the one and only "creation" for madame is designed. Then come fittings daily and one may receive one's "creation" and the bill within three weeks if all goes well.

The bill? I heard a few women speak rapidly of "the perfectly sweet little gown I got for forty dollars!" Paris is, however, the place to buy your kid gloves. Few women escape with fewer than ten pair. The softest sueded, hand-sown, may be bought for less than 75 cents.

Paris, too, is the place for opera glasses, confections of beauty in that make one resemble the Duchess of Something—six dollars.

You will buy perfumes of a hundred odors. A dollar perhaps for the five-dollar size you buy at home.

Now a few beware about your European shopping! Be careful of the first place!

For instance, on the way to Monte Carlo you pass through an ancient Roman town called La Turbie. At the place where the traveler alights to look at Monte Carlo down by the lapis sea, stands of Italian mosaic beads rear themselves. Thirty-five lire, or about one dollar and a quarter a string. Five miles further one comes to the Italian border. Vintemilla. Here gladden the same gorgeous mosaics for less than fifty cents.

Then one comes to Florence where thirty cents will buy the pick and finally to Venice, where the ones that sold at La Turbie for more than a dollar may be found for a dime plus.

Venice is the shopper's paradise. Tooters for the glass and lace fac-tories haul one inside "for to see the glass blow bees" or "for to see the balmio make the lace," and one emerges with Venetian glass powder boxes, glass fish and oranges for something or other, or a scrap of filet to stick in a napkin corner.

Here's a tip! If you can't afford the real Venetian point made before your eyes by a tiny balmio ask for the hand-applied lace. This is a machine net background almost covered by hand pattern and as lacy and soft as a cloud.

Beautiful collars for three dollars.

The Little Rosies abroad are buying their hand-decorated Christmas cards like mad over here. "As if there could be any Christmas in my life this year," I heard a woman wall, fingering her pence.

And they sell measures of corn at Saint Mark's to feed the already gorged pigeons, and while you are sipping your breakfast coffee in the square old women come about with fern-lined baskets full of waxy gardenias, and spiky carnations, and little boys with pails of sardines scooped from a morning sea.

BEAUTY CHATS

ARTIFICIAL BEAUTY AIDS

There are tricks in all trades, and in none more than the beauty trade. There are tricks to make a muddy skin look clear (though the result will only be good for a few hours and won't stand sunlight at that), and tricks to make thin hair thick, and ugly nails pretty, and, in general, to make a nondescript woman of 40 into a blooming young thing of 25.

Have you varnished your finger nails?

And why not? As long as the trickery isn't obvious, it only adds to the general attractiveness and pleasure of life.

Here are some artificial aids: Liquid powder. I don't really approve of it, because it dries the skin and certainly does no good, but if you buy a very good quality and use it only very occasionally, and then only at night when you are under a kindly artificial light, it will be all right. It will conceal patchy sunburn marks, freckles and certain surface skin blemishes, and looks well with evening dress, not with daytime frocks.

Nail varnish. Something else I don't really approve of, but sometimes use for none of us do only the things we approve of. Varnish makes the nails pink and glossy, and saves a great deal of time using the polisher, and a good quality is used, the pink won't be too artificial. It will be a little pinker than nature, perhaps, but then our clothes are so highly artificial that quite pink nails, with a good deal of shine to them are only in keeping. Natural nails would look unnatural just as a "natural" unpowdered nose would look odd. We'll have to go back to simple, full skirted, ingenue styles before powder, rouge or pink nails are out of place.

Louise—Your weight of 125 pounds at 25 years with a height of five feet three inches, is slightly above normal. Your measurements are in fair proportion but would likely be improved if you weighed five pounds less.

L. B.—You can make a curling fluid by dissolving gum tragacanth with hot water, and then thinning it later to the consistency of mucilage. Dampen the hair with this and form into curls, fasten securely as it dries and then brush out the dried particles of the gum.

THOUGHT FOR A SECOND JOURNEY

If I could live my life again And twice come down to earth I think I'd brave the self-same pain To know the self-same mirth.

But I should want the self-same friends, The self-same girls and boys, For I have found on them depends My memory of joys.

I should not wish to come anew To brave this world alone

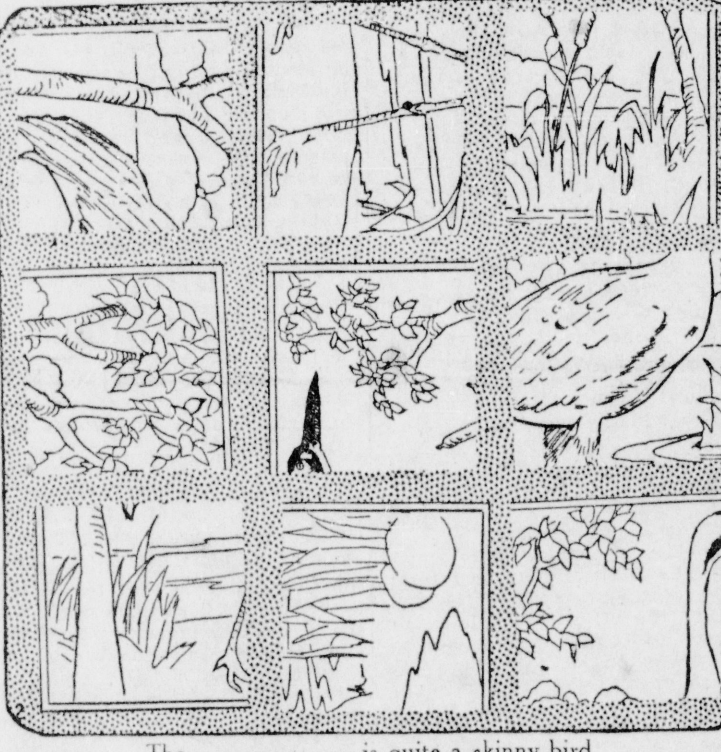

And search again for friendships true, I'd want the ones I've known. I'd want the same good kindly Dad. The same sweet mother, too, They made the happiness I've had This present journey through.

I should not care to come alone Adventuring loss and gain, But to relive the joys I've known I'd gladly brave the pain.

BREAKFAST—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, crisp rye toast, sour cream waffles, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Spinach timbales, graham bread, peach custard soufflé, milk, tea.

DINNER—Cold sliced lamb with vegetable salad, baked macaroni and tomatoes, Boston brown bread sandwiches, red raspberries with sugar and cream, mock angel food cake, milk, coffee.

The salad is served in cups of lettuce on the platter with the meat. This makes a most attractive dish and saves dishwashing, since separate salad plates are not needed. The macaroni is served in the dish in which it was cooked. Another saving in dishwashing.

Peach Custard Soufflé

Two cups thinly sliced peaches, 1-2 cup sugar over peaches, 2 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 eggs, 3-4 cup scalded milk, 1-2 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1-8 teaspoon vanilla.

Arrange peaches in a buttered baking dish and sprinkle with sugar. Melt butter without bubbling and stir in flour. Blend thoroughly and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and stir in sugar and yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Remove at once from the fire and let stand until cool. Fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Pour over peaches and bake in a moderately slow oven for thirty minutes. Serve at once with cream whipped until firm and sweetened with powdered sugar and flavored slightly with vanilla.

ONE-MAN CHURCH
ROME, Aug. 30.—It took an Italian mason named Mazzoli, 32 years to build a church, but he did it, and without assistance. He started the structure, which has just been completed at Venezzano, near Bologna, and neighbors helped by supplying bricks, sand and mortar. Mazzoli was 34 years old when he started his gigantic task.

LARGE ESTATE
LONDON, Aug. 30.—England is overcrowded but there still are plenty of large estates. A recent property offered for sale included grounds so extensive that the owner could walk a mile straightaway on grass and not step outside the boundaries of the estate.

For school, bicycle tires specially priced. Henry's, 427 W. 4th.

"C.C. YOUNG" for "GOVERNOR"

"Kindly-Considerate-Human"

Folks, I've just been sitting studying the photographs of the two leading Republican candidates for Governor of California, one of which is bound to be elected August 31st, namely, Mr. C. C. Young and Mr. Richardson, and OH, what a contrast I see in these two men.

C. C. Young with his high forehead, his piercing eye, strong mouth and square jaw, illuminated by that expression of intelligence and kindness that he is so noted for, is the type of man that we may thank for making the United States of America the leading nation of the world, in a little over one century. C. C. Young is the "Calvin Coolidge" type, not so much on shouting his accomplishments to the grandstand, but always on the side of sane, constructing measures.

Were we to finecomb the world I don't believe we could find a man with his heart more wrapped up in the progress of California, or more fitted, in every respect, to be Governor of this great State, than our present Lieutenant-Governor, C. C. Young.

Mr. Richardson, in his appeal for re-election, lays great stress on the fact that during his three and a half years in office he has never commuted the sentence of any man sentenced to be hanged, possibly a worthy boast from a professional hangman, but to me, this from the Governor of any State, is the most horrible expression that has ever come to my attention, but the same statement from Mr. Richardson is a good inside reflection of the type of man.

Folks, we all love and admire a man with a Soul, a man with a big heart, a human being with a human feeling for his fellow men, and let me impress on you now, that in electing C. C. Young, Governor of California we will have made a pronounced forward step.

As previously stated, the gubernatorial contest has developed into a two-man race, between Mr. Young and Mr. Richardson, and bear this well in mind when you are casting your vote, because none of us want to throw our ballot away on a contestant that has no chance to win.

Do not forget that it is much more important to every voter, to cast your vote at the Primary elections August 31st, than it is at the final elections, and this for the reason that the Republican Candidate getting the most votes at the Primary August 31st will be the Republican Nominee, and at the run-off will have no opposition but the Democratic Nominee, which all means that the Republican Candidate polling the most votes August 31st will be our next Governor.

Folks, it is a well-known fact throughout the United States, that the reason for so much inability in our Public Offices, is due to the fact that our voters fail to go to the polls, and this time more than any other time during the past dozen years, you owe it to yourself, and you owe it to the State of California, to go to the polls next Tuesday, August 31st and cast your vote for C. C. Young for Governor, and Judge Robert M. Clarke for United States Senator.

I am calling on every thinking man and woman voter in Southern California, to not only go to the polls and cast your own vote for C. C. Young and "Bob" Clarke, but endeavor to influence at least two or three of your friends to do likewise, and thereby promote for this Golden State a little more kindness, a little less creed, a little more giving, a little less greed, a little more smile, a little less frown, a little less kicking a man when he's down, a little more "WE," a little less "I," a little more laugh, a little less cry, a little more flowers on the pathway of life, and fewer on graves at the end of the strife.

1000 Phone Employees In Beach Picnic

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 30.—More than 1000 persons attended the picnic of telephone employees serving the southern part of Los Angeles at Seal Beach yesterday. Only those who had to maintain Sunday service stayed in the city. Break contests of all kinds with plenty of bathing to keep down the temperature, were staged by the frolicking telephone folk.

DISCOVERY WELL FLOWS 200 BARRELS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 30.—The Superior Oil company's Jones No. 1, the discovery project, is making less than 200 barrels a day at present, according to unofficial reports. Miley's Pacific Electric No. 1 and the Julian-Lambert No. 1 are making about 500 barrels each, field reports say.

The Superior is expected to complete another well in the west end of Huntington Beach this week. It has its Fee No. 1 ready to set 11 inch casing at 3030 feet. This is one of 13 wells which the Superior has under way there, seven of which are actually drilling, and the others are in stages ranging from location to installation of drilling machinery.

The Miley Petroleum Exploration company is drilling in oil sand in its Pacific Electric No. 2, according to official reports, but shows no signs of setting casing. Considerable conjecture is being raised in the field as to whether the Miley well is merely seeking to determine the thickness of the upper zone before trying for production, or whether it is going on down for deep sand. Either of these alternatives may be followed by the Miley drillers.

New derricks in the field total more than 50, with approximately 35 wells actually drilling. Of these projects there are possibly a dozen which are deep enough to have a good chance to get production within the next 10 days or two weeks.

ORANGE

ORANGE, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Mary C. Jackson has moved from 234 South Grand street to her recently purchased home at 235 East Palmyra avenue. $125,000 PAID ORANGE GROWERS IN FIRST POOL OF RED FOX ASSOCIATION

ORANGE, Aug. 30.—Complete payment for the first pool of the Red Fox Orchards association was made Saturday with the mailing out of checks aggregating $125,000 to upwards of 100 growers in this vicinity. The pool ran from the opening of the season in May to July 10.

The payment averaged three cents per pound for all fruit sold. In commenting on the payment,

J. D. Spennetta, manager of the Red Fox organization, stated that the returns were considered very good.

"Oranges are the one farm product now returning a fair profit," he added.

The association's second pool ended August 15. Returns from this pool have not been announced. Shipment of oranges in the third pool is now under way. It will close September 15.

FOUR RESCUED BY NEWPORT GUARDS

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 30.—Four persons, whose names were not learned, were rescued from the surf here yesterday. Two of the rescuees occurred at Balboa near the pier and two others at the entrance to Newport bay. Life guards battled for several minutes to save the lives of two bathers who were swimming in the entrance to the bay. The two swimmers at Balboa were knocked down by huge waves and carried over seven hundred feet, according to reports.

Little Jack Campbell caused considerable excitement on Walker street last week, when he started the sedan while his mother was shopping in a Cypress store. The car climbed the curb, dislodged an oil house, crossed the La Rue lawn, did some crazy stunts along the curb and was finally halted by an Edison power pole. A tire was wrecked and the front axle was thrown out of line. Little Jack, who is only six years of age, and his smaller brother were not injured.

L. A. MAN IN JAIL ON TWO CHARGES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 30.—L. W. Traub, 37, of 4450 Honduras street, Los Angeles, is in the Huntington Beach jail today facing charges of reckless driving and failure to stop and render aid after an accident, due to the persistence of W. H. Sanders of 280 Redondo avenue, Long Beach.

Traub was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer John Stanton, after being pointed out by Sanders. Traub, according to police crashed into a car driven by W. J. Saylor at Seventeenth street and Delaware avenue. The Saylor machine was wrecked but Traub continued on his way, it is said. Sanders, who was close behind, followed Traub.

Porpoises View Comedy Scenes

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 30.—Evidently the interest in the filming of motion pictures is not confined to mere man, for in the midst of the work by the Mack Sennett company at Seal Beach Saturday, a flash of black was recorded in the ocean background before which the bathing beauties posed. Another and another flash turned the attention of directors, actors and audience alike to the sea to witness the very unusual sight of a school of porpoises leaping from the water in an evident desire to see this work of production first hand.

IT'S UP TO THE VOTERS

The campaign issues have been laid before the voters, and tomorrow we vote.

Tomorrow is the day toward which candidates and their friends have been working. The priceless gift of the franchise is to be exerted to determine many matters upon which opinions differ, to select many public officers concerning whom views have varied widely.

There are issues of great consequence before us. No voter who has given the situations involved any thought should fail to go to the polls tomorrow and vote. To fail will be the loss of an opportunity as a citizen. This land of ours sees the ballot-box as the balance wheel of government. Without it, we would be lost. It is at its best only when it is used. Disuse is dangerous to the institutions of our form of government.

There are at stake matters that concern the welfare of the Southwest. The selection of county and township candidates is of real consequence. The character and fitness of candidates have been fairly presented to the voters of Orange county. The arguments are made; the candidates who have desired to discuss their platforms have had ample opportunity to do so. It seems to us that there have been more public gatherings for candidates this year than ever before. Both the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Young Men's Republican club have performed exceptional and valuable service for the county in having made opportunities for candidates and others to appear and present their views. The Register has carried out carefully and, we believe, successfully its policy of reporting fairly and fully the addresses and interviews that have been presented by the various candidates who have come to Santa Ana. We feel sure that anyone who has read The Register has had ample opportunity to be informed fairly concerning the issues.

And while presenting the news impartially, we have construed it to be our duty and our privilege as an independent Republican newspaper to express our opinions concerning the vital issues and candidacies in the state and national campaigns. We have advocated the nominations of C. C. Young for Governor, Lyman M. King for Lieutenant Governor, Robert M. Clarke for United States senator and Dr. C. D. Ball for assemblyman. Nothing has occurred during the campaign to swerve us from our choice, or to shake our convictions concerning these men. To our readers we earnestly recommend their election.

As we see it, the most important issue in the campaign is that presented by the pending Swing-Johnson bill. We believe that Governor Richardson ought to be defeated upon other issues as well as upon that issue. After hearing the clearcut, straight-from-the-shoulder presentation of the situation by Congressman Phil D. Swing, we are more certain than ever that the situation is such that the election of a governor who will fight with Congressman Swing in securing the passage of the Swing-Johnson bill is imperative. Of great consequence, too, is the selection of an assemblyman who is certain that he will vote for what we believe to be a tremendously important measure—the Metropolitan Water District bill. Dr. Ball has pledged himself to fight for and to vote for it. We believe Lyman M. King the best fitted man among the candidates for lieutenant governor. He believes Southern California is entitled to have Robert M. Clarke in the United States Senate.

Whether or not a voter agrees with us, is no longer our concern. We believe we have done our duty in these contests. It is our concern, and every good citizen's concern, to have the issues decided by a substantial vote. Orange county ought not to be satisfied with anything less than an eighty per cent vote tomorrow.

HUGE HOME TRADE

The total value of American business during the current year, the National Association of Retail Credit Men estimates, will exceed $100,000,000,000. Just say that over slowly—"one hundred billion dollars."

That is all domestic business, too. It far surpasses anything in history, and is eloquent testimony to the abounding prosperity now enjoyed by the American people.

It is still more eloquent testimony to the value of the domestic market. Compared with that stupendous total, the greatest foreign trade on record was a mere mite. Exports and imports together reached about $13,000,000,000 in the big year of 1920; and for a good deal of that, be it remembered, the buyers have not yet paid. Ordinarily our foreign trade amounts to seven or eight billions.

We sell to ourselves more than 12 times as much as we sell to all the rest of the world together. When we prosper as we are prospering now, it is due pre-eminently to the fact that we get rich by selling to ourselves. And the domestic market is still far from being fully developed.

Foreign trade opportunities are important; yet for every such opportunity abroad there are 20 right here at home, for the man who has vision to see them and enterprise to seek them.

GREECE REVOLTS

Gen. Pangalos, president-dictator of Greece, laid plans to borrow money in America to bolster up the drachma and establish his regime solidly in power. Then he went for a vacation to a secluded little island in the Mediterranean. Whereupon Gen. Condylis, former war minister, staged a quick and bloodless revolution, put Pangalos in jail and set free the political prisoners languishing there.

Now, no doubt, Condylis will be asking for those loans.

He may get them, though not from the government. There may be private capitalists willing to risk their money in Greece for as low as 8½ per cent, as the Swedish match monopoly had agreed to do, with permission to raise the price of matches for security. Or there may be gamblers willing to lend some political outfit in Athens the cash it needs for, say 10 per cent interest, with a liberal commission and a guarantee of such customs receipts as are not already hocked. But mostly, Americans will "lay off" that investment market until things settle down in Athens.

It may or may not be "just another dictatorship." The new boss at Athens promises "to establish popular liberty" and "to proceed in eight months at the latest to free elections in order to confide the power to the chosen representatives of the people." It would please mightily the greatest modern democracy—if that is what we are—to have real democracy restored in the country that first taught democracy to the world. That would commend the Condylis regime to America, for moral support and financial support both, if anything would. But somehow modern Greece, at best, seems to show little aptitude for self-government.

Policy Working Out

San Francisco Chronicle

How far the Government's policy of building up commercial aviation in the United States has succeeded is indicated by the advice now given by the Postmaster-General that air mail contractors increase their revenues by carrying passengers and light express.

The first year's operations proved that it could be done, and private contractors were encouraged to enter the field. The Government began letting contracts for carrying the air mail, just as it does for the transportation of ordinary mail by steamships and railroads. And the contract system has worked well. Aviation concerns have been enabled to establish lines they could not have undertaken without the profitable air mail contracts.

But the Government does not intend to carry the whole financial burden of commercial aviation in the United States, nor is it the policy to restrict it exclusively to the transportation of mail. And operating experience having demonstrated that a regular transcontinental schedule can be maintained with regularity, promptness and safety, the time has come for the first step in the wider development of airplane service.

What the passenger rates will be remains to be seen. They will be high—high enough so that for a time to come the airplane probably will not be very widely used for general travel.

But there are many persons who for business reasons will find a schedule of thirty odd hours from coast to coast worth all that it costs, and there will be many others who will travel by airplane for the novelty of the thing. And the more such passengers there are the more the service will be expanded, and the more the service is expanded the lower the rates can be. The day seems not distant when there will be nothing unusual about eating breakfast in San Francisco one morning and dinner in New York the next night.

The air mail experiment has been successful in more ways than one, and it shows that, in spite of all the criticism that has been heard for America's backwardness in this respect, a tremendous job has been done in a creditable way.

Saving of Daylight

Pasadena Star-News

That daylight saving is generally satisfactory is attested by the fact that the greater part of the Eastern part of the United States has adopted it and that no locality or region which has adopted it, is tired of it or is disposed to give it up.

The daylight saving plan here in California would be very materially beneficial, it is believed, in that it would make for big aggregate savings in use of electricity for lighting. This is of the greatest importance, in that it would conserve water in reservoirs of hydro-electric companies. Power shortage means heavy losses to manufacturers and to their workmen. Cut off one hour daily of electric light service required in the industrial plants of the state, and the effect upon the available supply would be quite satisfactory.

Besides this method of economizing, daylight saving should prompt greater efficiency in achievement in the day's work. Under this plan an early morning hour is put in place of the late afternoon hour. The early hour is less pleasant and work, when done comes with less effort than in the latter end of the day, when the evening shadows fall.

Daylight saving is commended because of its good effect upon health. Getting to bed one hour earlier and rising an hour earlier has its invigorating reaction upon the human body and nerves. It is soothing and restful, and gives an additional hour at the end of every day for recreation.

The daylight saving movement in California commends itself to the interest of all. It would be a good thing for the state, without doubt.

This courageous girl, who does not let her physical handicap daunt her, is majoring in social economics. How it should shame those who are whole in body, in good health and in full possession of faculties, to contemplate the notable achievements of persons with great physical handicaps! SQUARE MEAL IS ONE WELL ROUNDED WITH VITAMINS

A square meal must contain carbohydrates, fats, proteins, mineral salts and water, with sufficient quantities of vitamins "A," "B" and "C." Vitamin "A" is most abundant in animal fats and green vegetables; vitamin "B" in yeast, cereals, nuts, eggs, the internal organs of animals and root vegetables; vitamin "C" in fresh juicy fruits and green vegetables.

The best foods for supplying good protein in the diet are meats, eggs, milk, fish and cheese.

Some foods contain practically no vitamins. These are margarine, made entirely from vegetable fats, lard, bacon fat, pork fat, highly milled cereals, such as pure white flour and corn flour, sugar, tapioca, custard powders, bananas, tea, coffee, chocolate and some beer.

Obviously, there are plenty of good foods, indeed sufficient to satisfy the appetite of anyone, which provide the necessary vitamins.

When vitamin "A" is absent, the body stops growing, the blood cells fail to develop and the person loses resistance to infection. In infants, its absence means a very poor development of the bones and of the teeth.

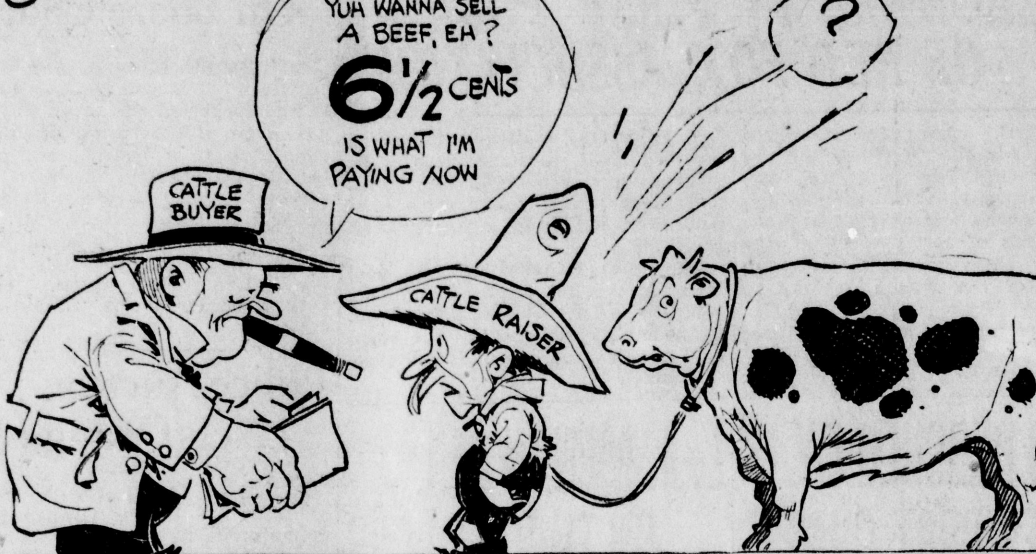

If vitamin "B" is absent from the body the person may develop beriberi, but even before this disease appears, there is loss of appetite, weakness, loss of weight, an inclination to puffiness of the body and disturbances of digestion.

The absence of vitamin "C" means sooner or later the appearance of scurvy, but even before this disease there may be loss of energy and pains in the joints and limbs. This is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism.

More and more physicians are realizing that an adequate diet is fundamental to the proper control of any disease condition, and indeed fundamental to the prevention of all diseases.

Constructive Idleness

Strenuousness has been overdone and over praised. It is time to speak a word in praise of idleness. Such a word is spoken, fitly and eloquently, by a schoolmaster—of all persons!—in an English educational publication.

"The idler I have in mind," he writes, "is not, of course, the habitually work-shy loafer. I mean the man who, in the absence of some duty, will be content to do just nothing; one who will sit gazing in the winter fire, or lie looking into the placid blue of heaven, or at the wisps of filmy cloud that float across the summer sky, or watch the waves of light and shade as the meadow grass sways in the sunshine before the summer breeze; one who will listen to the murmuring of the brook as it swirls and ripples over its stony bed; or watch, with an ear also for its music, the rhythmic beat of the sea-surge; one whose walks are aimless wanderings between green hedges bright with summer flowers and the song of birds and the hum of bees; whose passage through the crowded streets is made rich by fleeting impressions of all that infinite variety which goes to make the unity of human life, its notes of blended harmony or jangling discord."

All of this, it may be remarked, is really very far from "doing just nothing." Idleness may be as constructive as purposeful effort, when used in this wise fashion by a tired man or woman. The vacation season now coming to an untimely close is, of all seasons in the year, the time for it. The wise person, however, will scatter such idleness pretty regularly through the working year, in small bits, thereby gaining such relaxation between tasks as to rest mind and body and make them equal to the strain.

Most of us know how to work. The rarest and most valuable thing, for anyone not naturally and hopelessly lazy, is to know how to rest.

CEDARS

These are the marching trees—they climb and climb
Along the sweeping hillslopes to the crest;
They seem to pause and yet they never rest
Like the ongoing of the feet of Time.
Singly they mount, and now they mount abreast
With all the stateliness of measured time;
In them the elder years are manifest,
And these years yield a memory sublime.

Caught in their arms the sinking sunset fire
That gilded the lone peaks of Lebanon;
It was their brethren, towering over Tyre
That worshipped Astoroth through torchlit nights,
Which Hiram hewed for golden Solomon.

ECONOMY, DID YOU SAY?

After all, an "economy" campaign has some features which to the ordinary taxpayer do not appear to really mean economy, so far as he (the taxpayer) is concerned.

According to the Sacramento Bee the state printing office, owned by the people of California, the state of printers and pressmen, paper and ink, all paid for out of state funds, and equipment belonging to the people of the state, "are being used to supply literature for Friend W. Richardson's campaign for re-election as governor on an 'economy' program."

WHERE SWING STANDS

Congressman Swing, who has served the people of California in general and this congressional district in particular, most faithfully and with marked efficiency, says his work for the great enterprise known as the Boulder dam project would be greatly aided by California electing a governor who would do all in his power to further the enterprise. He further says that not only has the present governor of California failed to do this, but that he has opposed the project, and clearly shown that he was and is under the influence and domination of interests inimical thereto. The congressman supports C. C. Young for governor and makes a special and most important reason for such action that Mr. Young is a strong supporter of the Boulder dam project, is pledged to support the measure in every way he can, and has no affiliation or connection with interests which have hitherto opposed the project, and may be expected to continue to do so.

BEYOND THE LIMIT

During the present campaign Governor Richardson's newspaper supporters have been claiming about everything in sight for him and for his administration.

But the fact remains that the governor is quite expert and adept along that line himself. For instance, he has had State Engineer Paul Bailey at work on "Colorado river development," and that Bailey has discovered a better route for the aqueduct than the route tentatively selected by William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Water and Power board.

But when pinned down to "brass tacks," so to speak, by Engineers Mulholland and Van Norman, who had made a survey, Mr. Bailey acknowledged that he had made none, but that he had examined a contour map and, from such examination, had formed the idea that a different and better route was feasible.

"It's all right folks, of course it's all right, and proper, but this thing of giving 'absent treatment' to even such an important engineering project as the Boulder dam seems to this writer to be going just a little beyond the limit."

WE ALL DO IT—Just in passing.

It might be noted that not all the "bad breaks" are made by the country newspapers. The metropolitan journals make their share, albeit they seem delighted to call attention to any mistake made by the newspapers of smaller circulation.

For instance, and for example, the Sacramento Bee, which is a metropolitan newspaper and a good one, recently took occasion to lament the alleged fact that the requirement that the age of the voter must be given is responsible for many people in California failing to register, and, consequently, to vote.

There is no such requirement in California. Neither has there been since 1912.

Verily, the best and wisest of us get off on the wrong foot sometimes.

THERE'S A REASON

A list of thirty-two, thirty-two, count 'em, country newspaper men who have been appointed to office by the present governor of California has recently been published.

Not at all strange is the fact that each and every one of them is working most industriously to continue the present incumbent in office.

ABOUT TIA JUANA

A great many American citizens and newspapers roundly denounce the "goings on" at Tia Juana, and condemn the place as the crime and vice breeding school which it really is.

Nevertheless it would be as well to recall that Tia Juana is maintained very largely by the patronage of people who are citizens of these United States. Worse yet, it is asserted, and is probably true, that most of the "attractions" which have made Tia Juana what it is are owned and operated by Americans. The horse racing feature, with its attendant unlimited gambling, is certainly under the ownership and management of an American citizen.

Rare Red Diamond

A fine specimen of the very rare red diamond has been found at the Star Kimberley mine, in South Africa. The stone was discovered in the alluvial diggings of the mine. The red diamond is somewhat like the ruby in color, and will probably command a price of $600 to $750 a karat. It was cut to a flawless stone about six karats in weight.

The biggest "rush" to peg claims in the history of alluvial diamond digging in the western Transvaal took place recently on the farm Zwartplaats, 15 miles from Ventersdorp, says the Engineering and Mining Journal Press. The length of the run was about one thousand yards, (five-eighths of a mile), and about two thousand diamond diggers toed the line, in fan-shaped formation, on a curve of about one and a half miles. The mining commission, with a force of police, was present to prevent confusion.

Stones worth about $50,000 had been discovered during prospecting operations. The number of licenses issued for the rush was 1680.

Study Soundness of Sleep

J. M. D. in Hygieia.

An experimental study on sleep is being made at the Mellon Institute for Industrial Hygiene. Preliminary to a study of sleep as disturbed by various conditions, observations on normal sleep have been conducted.

Twelve healthy young men, eleven of whom were students, served as subjects for observation. They slept in a quiet, well ventilated room, retiring at 11 p. m. and rising at 7 a. m. Each of the comfortable, single beds in which they slept was mounted on pendulum supports with ball and socket bearings and was connected with apparatus that was sufficiently sensitive to record the quick movement of a forearm or any movement of a whole limb.

The purpose of the experiment was to learn how activity in normal, healthy adults is disturbed over the time devoted to rest and to compare these measurements with figures that have been obtained showing how strength returns as the result of sleep.

Each 5-minute period in bed was treated as a time atom and was said to contain activity in any stir of the sleeper were recorded with it. The rest period was defined as the time from the middle of a 5-minute interval in which activity occurred to the beginning of the next interval of activity.

The frequency of stir among the sleepers was surprising. The popular conception of a restful night would probably be that the sleeper might change his position from four to eight times in eight hours, the average length of the rest period being from one to two hours. On the contrary, in 14,443 measurements, the subjects slept without stirring for an average length of only 11.26 minutes. In half of the observations the average length was less than five minutes. In only one of these thousands of observations was the rest period more than three hours.

It is evident that the average healthy person sleeps much less soundly—that is, with much shorter intervals without noticeable movement—than is usually supposed. Another unexpected conclusion from these experiments was that the way a person sleeps is a definite personal characteristic. As a rule, the restless sleeper displayed short rest periods every night during the experiment.

Fatigue after a day of hard physical work in at least one observation was shown not to promote but rather to interfere with sound sleep.

There was, on the whole, a tendency for the least activity to be manifested in the first hour after the subject settled down to fairly steady rest, but from ten minutes to two hours after retiring.

Some subjects rested more during the first half of the night; others during the last half, the first and last quarters, or the second and third quarters.

Many studies have been made of the phenomena of sleep, but there is yet much to be learned about it.
